

The Weather
Cloudy, Tonight and Sunday;
Probably Local Thunder Showers

"The Red Redmaynes"
By Eden Philpotts
Now Appearing in The Bee

FOUNDED FEBRUARY, 1899. NO. 7,776.

DANVILLE, VA., SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JULY 14, 1923

THE HOME PAPER
2,500 MORE BEES SOLD
DAILY THAN THERE
ARE HOMES IN DANVILLE
TODAY
18
PAGES

TWO TOWNS WIPE OUT BY FIRE!

Flames Sweep Mining Centres; Many Homeless

Misery Stalks Among In-habitants After Devastating Blaze—No Lives Lost.

(By The Associated Press)

WALLACE, Idaho, July 14.—Misery stalks today in the little towns of Burke and Mace, mining centers seven miles east of here, after a devastating fire starting at 1 p.m. yesterday and sweeping its way through a mile and a half of homes, stores and mining works. At midnight last night no deaths had been reported, but the entire business section of Burke was destroyed and virtually every home was in ruins. The loss is put at $1,500,000.

Mace adjoining Burke on the west suffered less seriously, the flames having been fanned by a west wind away from the starting place of the fire. About a thousand persons are said to be homeless. They are driving ahead of the fire toward Thompson Falls. Men, women and children last night were trying to save their belongings from the onslaught of the flames. Many lost all they possessed. It was announced by officials of the Hercules Mining company that the Hecla surface works were destroyed. Loss to the Hecla company is estimated by mining men at between $750,000 and $1,000,000. The electric hoist of the Hecla, one of the largest in the world, was burned. The fire was checked at the mine, the Hecla and the Hercules works. Fire fighters recruited from the men of the town supplemented by the apparatus from Wallace stopped the advance of the flames. The whole hillside was a mass of fire and smoke. Red Cross workers from Wallace have been rushed to Burke with food and clothing. It is said it will take several days to quench the fire as piles of timber cribbing at the Hecla plants nearly a quarter of a mile in length are a mass of flames. Railways in the state lines from Rosemont, Lynchburg, Norfolk, Onancock, Newport News, Staunton, Portsmouth and Richmond

Town Topics

A fire alarm rung from the box situated at Bridge and Main streets yesterday afternoon at 2:30 called all city fire fighting apparatus to the Royal Coffee store. A coffee roaster had become ignited through the motor and the fire had communicated with the contents. The danger was quickly eliminated. Firemen made an unusually prompt response on the alarm, the Patton street engine being at the scene of the fire before the full round of the alarm had ceased ringing.

Workers in the Municipal Building are interested in the five o'clock closing idea which is being carried out by most of the local mercantile establishments. A movement has been started in the various offices in the Municipal Building to see how the various officials feel about it.

At a recent conference between General Superintendent A. D. Shelton, of the Southern Railway, and officials of the Chamber of Commerce concerning the erection of sheds at the Danville passenger station Mr. Shelton agreed to have his engineers prepare an estimate of cost of the proposed sheds, although not making any further commitment on the completion of the project. The estimate was turned over to Secretary Henry E. Watkins today and will be presented to the Chamber at its next meeting. The estimated cost, which is $90,280, covers "butterfly sheds and concrete platforms" for four tracks for a distance of 500 feet.

H. O. Eanes, manager of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, has returned to the city after attending a conference of telephone managers in Richmond. The meeting was in charge of Division Manager C. H. Weber. The conference was devoted to discussing public relations and ways and means of improving telephone lines in the state. Managers from Rosemont, Lynchburg, Norfolk, Onancock, Newport News, Staunton, Portsmouth and Richmond attended.

CHANGE OF VENUE MAY MAKE TRIAL ILLEGAL

Special to The Bee.) RICHMOND, Va., July 14.—Should Judge B. D. White accede to the prosecution's petition for a change of venue in the case of Robert C. and Larkin C. Garrett, under indictment for murder of Rev. E. S. Price in Lumberland, court on June 5, the proceedings would thereafter be illegal, and, in event of conviction, a new trial would be ordered by the Supreme court of appeals.

This is rather definitely indicated by a series of Supreme court decisions pointed out today by an attorney in discussing. These opinions nullify every denial of the constitutional right of a prisoner to a trial, not only by a jury of his peers, but by a jury of his vicinage. They go further and define the term "vicinage" as the court to whose court the prisoner is subject.

ANNUAL INDIAN FISH TRY

(Special to The Bee.) RICHMOND, Va., July 14.—The Chickahominy Indians are to hold their annual fish fry on the reservation this afternoon, at which time Chief Akeking and the members of the tribe will show the pale face friends a few things that will interest and interest. Several State officials have been invited to be a honor among them Governor Trinkle, and he is expected to be accompanied by members of his official family and staff. General W. W. Sale, of the military division, is expected to attend, but in a personal rather than official way, for these Indians are peaceful, progressive and are making good in the fertile land which is theirs.

FIRST BAPTIST WINNER OVER KEEN STREET

First Baptist defeated Keen Street yesterday in a pretty seven inning contest. Skaggs, pitching for First Baptist shut out the Keen Streeters and was never in danger of being scored on except once when one man for the opponents reached third base. The Baptist team backed him up with errors ball. Score: R. Baptist ..... 339 000 6-0 Keen Street ..... 000 000 0-0 Batteries: Baptist—Skaggs and O'Dell; Keen Street: Hubbard and Gammon.

DEATH OF J. R. CAIN

John R. Cain, age 70, passed away this morning at 10 o'clock at his home on River street. Deceased was for many years a railroad man and was widely acquainted. He is survived by his wife.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at the residence at 5 o'clock, the services to be conducted by Rev. J. Clyde Holland. Interment will be made in Leemont cemetery.

NEXT WEEK'S WEATHER

Generally fair with temperatures near or somewhat above normal, but occasional and scattered local thundersstorms probable.

President To Stop At Virgin Isles On His Return Journey

(By The Associated Press)

ON BOARD PRESIDENT HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN ON THE ALASKA RAILWAY, July 14.—The language of derision was exhausted by the pressmen, Mrs. Harding and members of the party today as the special train carried them over the government built railway into the heart of Alaska which the President has termed "America's Wonderland". The train of nine cars, since leaving Seward yesterday, has passed a succession of mountain lakes and glacier scenes with mountains raising their lofty snow-capped peaks above the clouds, lakes set like emeralds among mountain valleys green with jungle like vegetation and great blue glaciers sprawling along the slopes. The trip of the train has given the travellers a vision of Alaska not obtained on their water voyage along the coast of Southeast Alaska. At the outset of the trip the party saw the great Chugach national forest which extended along the coast sixty miles and inland many miles.

The whole trip overland is being made by daylight which lasts almost twenty-four hours a day at this time of the year. The President, let it be known he plans to stop at St. Thomas Virgin Isles on his way from Panama to New York when he returns to Washington.

MOVE TO WIN MEDAL FOR SHAW

The Worst Is Best

Russian royalty is glad for even steerage accommodations these days, as witnessed by the recent arrival in San Francisco of the Princess Kropotkin and her daughter. Two hundred and fifty-eight refugees from Russia arrived on the boat with the princess. Several counts were her fellow steerage passengers.

Trustees Move To Break Impasse In Danville Library

Statement Is Issued Making It Clear That Danville Needs Institution and That Public's Attitude Has Been Misunderstood.

The board of trustees appointed by the contract was entered into the council to administer the affairs of the proposed free library at the between the city fathers and Miss Schoolfield, made their first public statement today when a statement was issued by a committee composed of George A. Lea and F. W. Townes, both trustees of the board. The statement held a meeting last night in the Memorial Masonic Hall at which time the whole library matter was gone into with a view to friendly intervention and if possible affecting a reconciliation which would make the materialization of Miss Schoolfield's possible. It is reliably understood that the statement appended hereto would have been signed by the lady members of the board but because it was felt necessary by the special committee to portray the sacrifice made by some of these women in promoting the Danville library in the past, they could not sign it because it was a measure it was eulogistic of their efforts.

The whole purpose of last night's meeting was to find some way out of the present impasse and the fact that the trustees are function as the body appointed to handle the library encourages the hope in the minds of many earnest friends of the library that it may yet be saved to the city.

The statement makes it clear that the people of Danville want a library and their inaction in the matter has been misinterpreted.

One of the trustees said today that the only reason why the trustees and friends of the library failed to present themselves at the meeting of the council when opposition to the site was manifested by the representatives of organizations was because the contract was accepted at its face value and that the opinion prevailed that nothing could be done to upset that contract. In the opinion of the trustees failure of the part of people representing the opposition side to be present has been accepted as apathy and lack of interest when, he said, such is by no means the case. The committee's statement follows:

"At a call meeting of the Library Board, a committee composed of the subscribers hereo were appointed to make a statement to the public relative to the controversy in regard to the location of the new library building. The committee is aware of very difficult task which shall proceed in a calm and dispassionate manner, and to bring to the attention of the public the glorious achievements of the library and its usefulness to the community. But whether or not it is wise to do so is very problematical until we all can see clearly and judge each other's motives and actions correctly; however, in a spirit of reconciliation and desire to obtain the library, which we believe a large percentage of the citizens do so desire, we shall endeavor to enlighten the general public in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation in suggesting the beginning until the present time, and concrete method for this procedure, therefore let us no longer hesitate to indicate to Miss Schoolfield and Mr. Perkins how deeply we are interested and highly appreciate the fine generosity. This fine naturally Friends of the new movement have undoubtedly been disturbed in conveying to their general concern the attitude of their opponents in the library and library branch in the community the immense value of Miss Schoolfield's magnificent gift. We fear the public has been all too ignorant of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by a few noble women in caring for the library from its first incorporation

MRS. FITZGERALD DIED YESTERDAY

Mrs. Stelle Lou Fitzgerald, a life-long and highly esteemed resident of Danville, died yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at her home 802 Paxton Street after an illness of two weeks. She was stricken with paralysis suddenly and since last Monday her condition had been quite critical.

Mrs. Fitzgerald who was born at Hillsboro, N. C., September 3, 1884, came to Danville as a child with her parents, the late James J. Corbin and Mrs. Lucy Jane Burke Corbin and with the exception of a few years spent at Hillsboro she had lived a useful life in this community. She was married in Danville in 1885 to James Henry Fitzgerald, who for many years was well-known as an architect and builder in this city. For some time they resided in North Danville but for nearly twenty years they had resided in South Danville. Her husband died eight years ago being also a victim of paralysis which seized him without warning.

Decades became Vernon Methodist church twelve years ago and up until three years ago when her health had become impaired she was a devoted member and an active in many phases of religious endeavor. Her husband was a charter member of that church.

Mrs. Fitzgerald is survived by her three children, Mrs. J. S. Ogburn and Misses Pearl and Ruth Fitzgerald. She also is survived by three brothers, George Corbin of Winston-Salem, N. C., who arrived here last night, J. M. Corbin and R. W. Corbin both of Danville. Her surviving sister is Mrs. A. M. Southall.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at five o'clock from the home at the corner of Paxton and Jefferson streets by the Rev. J. T. Allen of Calvary Methodist church in the absence of the Rev. J. Callaway Robertson pastor of the deceased who is out of the city. Interment will be in Leemont cemetery.

EXHIBITION WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL

The swimming exhibition by the junior's and employed boys under the direction of Murray Hamner, Summer Director in the Y. M. C. A. pool proved very successful both in the exhibition itself and in the attendance by the mothers and friends of the boys who were entered in the events. The space reserved for the ladies was filled long before the fun started. Every even went off smoothly and the spectators gave their approval by frequent applause.

The life saving exhibition was well carried out by Hartwell Harrison and Marbury Edmunds. Hartwell "took cramp," was dragged out and resuscitated by Marbury. Then they changed parts and Hartwell did the rescue act. Nelson Rucker was individual point winner with a total of fourteen to his credit. Spencer James followed close behind with twelve.

100 yard dash
1st Hudson, 2nd B Adkins, 3rd Z. Gwynn
2-Plunge for distance
1st W Atkins, 2nd Jones, 3rd James
2-20 yard pack swim.
1st James, 2nd Rucker, 3rd Jordan
4-Fancy diving
1st Rucker, 2nd W. Atkins, 3rd Swaringer
3-40 yard dash
1st Jordan, 2nd Rucker, 3rd Ing.
6-Underwater swim
1st James, 2nd Rucker, 3rd J. D. Gwynn
(Team composed of Jordan, Ing., Relay)
2nd James and Jones)

PATTERSON OPENS NEW STORE IN WINSTON-SALEM
It will be of interest here to note that the Patterson Drug Co. has opened a new store in Winston-Salem. A. T. Canada formerly of the Danville store, will be manager and J. M. Darlington, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Darlington of this city, assistant manager. The quarters of the new store have been splendidly arranged and equipped for the prescription and drug business.

Attorney Weds Girl He Made Heiress to Benjamin Riches

NEW YORK.—[Special]—It was the sheerest kind of book romance. First Arthur Louis Fullman, a New York attorney, parted gallantly in the courts until he made Miss Anne Bolchi, an heiress to part of a sizeable fortune. Then in London the other day he married her in Corpus Christi Chapel, Covent Garden.

It all started when Park Benjama, New York patent attorney, author, and father of Mrs. Benjama, Anna Bolchi, [Photo] decided to

PURE ICE AND Reliable Service

During the Hot Summer Days it will be our aim to serve all the people of Danville, although the weather of the past week has been unusually hot and the demand for ice has been very heavy. Our entire plant and force, with much added delivery equipment, has been on the job and extra care is being taken to look after the demands of every party of the city.

We desire that our customers appreciate our position and give us their co-operation during the unusual demand for service.

When we can render a better service or make improvements in the present delivery system, it will be our pleasure to do so.

Special Delivery Service Available Until 5 p.m.

Danville Ice Co.

PHONE 140.

Judge In Fight For Orphans Ousted From Sea Resort

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
(Special to The Bee.)

NEW YORK, July 14.—One hundred and twenty-eight small orphans are today sadly contemplating the failure of their first organized effort to break free society.

Led by Justice Gustave Hartman, New York's bachelor judge, the orphans, whose winter home is at the Israel Orphan Asylum down on New York's lower East Side, had looked forward to spending the summer amidst the fashionable colony which yearly migrates out to Long Island and more particularly, Long Beach.

The judge had leased a large and pretentious dwelling for them there.

Big Burke, the actress, had lived in it once—and already the orphans were collecting their sand pails and wondering what they should take along in their small suit cases.

But the fashionable and exclusive colony at Long Beach didn't want them. Not, you understand, that the colony isn't as fond of an orphan as anybody in the world. Indeed, last year when the orphans' summer home at Arverne, broken down Long Beach got together and raised something like $20,000 to go toward rebuilding the place.

But to have the orphans elect to come into their very midst! Long Beach just couldn't see it. So they secured an injunction against the bachelor judge and his migrating orphans. The injunction has just been sustained.

"Long Beach isn't the place for orphans anyway," says Miss Alma B. Froelich, wife of Jesse Froelich, president of the school board and prime mover in securing the injunction against the judge. "It isn't merely that he was trying to break the laws of Long Beach by attempting to set up an institution in the midst of a very much restricted property section."

"He was trying to lodge 128 orphans and 25 attendants in a house originally meant for 10 persons and set up on a lot 100 by 100 feet. There would be scarcely any place for the children to play and almost no shade. And right in front of the house is the bay, six feet deep ordinarily and nine feet deep at high tide. How does the judge expect to keep the children from falling in?" He says he will build a fence but that is ridiculous.

JUSTICE GUSTAVE HARTMAN, WAGING FIGHT FOR ORPHANS AND MRS. ALMA B. FROELICH, ONE OF GROUP WHO WON COURT ORDER AGAINST THEM lous on a street of restricted property.

"Because these children are orphans Long Beach doesn't want them. But they have just as much right to the fresh air and sunshine of Long Beach as the children of these wealthy parents who protest against their coming."

It isn't laws they're upholding," he says, "they're fighting innocent babies. Long Beach has room for its sporting places and its dance halls and its movie palaces but it hasn't any room for little children craving the relief from the hot city.

"No, Long Beach is no place for orphans."

But the bachelor judge feels differently about it. For one thing he was an orphan himself and he used to sell papers down on the very spot where the Israel Orphan Asylum now stands.

"It isn't laws they're upholding," he says, "they're fighting innocent babies. Long Beach has room for its sporting places and its dance halls and its movie palaces but it hasn't any room for little children craving the relief from the hot city."

And so Judge Hartman is going to appeal from Judge Selah E. Strong's decision and carry the injunction into the Appellate Court.

tions and any action taken by such a convention can only be advisory.

However, a resolution was passed at the meeting yesterday memorializing the state convention to amend the constitution so as to provide duties and functions of such a unit in the life of the Legion.

After the meeting yesterday had been opened by prayer by Dr. O. L. Owens of Winston, organization was effected.

Col. O. McCormick, of Chatham, district commander, was elected chairman and Spencer Williamson of Martinsville, was named secretary.

Waivey Cousins, in a brief but appropriate speech extended the welcome of the Danville Post to the visiting delegates. Henry B. Watkins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the visiting legionnaires on behalf of the city of Danville, saying that he hoped that the state convention could be secured and pledging the support of the organization of which he is secretary to and in obtaining the convention.

Gerard King, of Martinsville, responded to the addressees of welcome on behalf of the delegates.

A letter was read from E. G. Corvine, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., extending the privileges of the "Y" such as shower baths and swimming pool, to the visiting delegates, and welcoming the legionnaires to the city.

A resolution concerning the opening of the membership of the Legion to soldiers serving in the war, was on the side of the allies but in armies other than the American was introduced and precipitated much discussion.

The resolution was offered by Hugh Williams favoring the honorary plan as opposed to the non-veteran type of memorial.

It was soon seen that the delegates present were overwhelmingly in favor of the library, with a main library in Richmond and branch libraries in each of the congressional districts.

Dr. O. L. Owens of Windsor, made an eloquent plea for the library plan saying that he had given up his work at the solicitation of friends of the library plan, and was going over the state presenting the matter for the consideration of the various Posts.

The resolution of Williams was carried without a dissenting vote.

The matter of the 1924 convention was broached by Waverly Cousins who asserted that every effort should be taken to bring the convention to this city. Representatives of the various Posts of the district pledged support and it is planned to have a large delegation at the Fredericksburg convention to urge the claims of this city.

The place and time of the next district convention was left to the executive committee. Both Martinsville and Chatham extended invitations in hope of securing the convention.

It was resolved that we, the members of the American Legion, 5th District of Virginia, in Convention assembled, desire to express our sincere appreciation. These four objectives were discussed and explained. Then the posts that do not function properly were taken up.

The causes for this state of affairs, in the main, said the speaker, were lack of an objective, lack of planning for an interesting meeting and lack of a woman's auxiliary.

Waivey Cousins, Post Commander, addressed the meeting on the matter of securing the 1924 convention for Danville. He urged that every member put a hand to the wheel and assist in this effort. He said that delegates for the Fredericksburg convention would be chosen in August and that a full attendance at the August meeting was urged. Mr. Cousins read from the entertainment committee for the August meeting and told the members to get busy.

The last speaker of the evening was Dr. C. N. Rucker, of the Veterans Bureau, who told of the work and plans of this government agency for the rehabilitation of ex-service men.

The American Legion Posts of the Fifth Congressional District yesterday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce quarters unanimously voted to back the efforts of the Danville Post in bringing the 1924 State Convention American Legion, to Danville. This was one of the chief objects in calling the meeting and the response of the delegations from the various Posts of the district was most gratifying. Many of the delegates made talk on the subject, piedged support of themselves, and in some instances of their posts.

Yesterday's conference was the first ever held in the district and the second ever held in the state. The constitution and by-laws of the American Legion do not provide district convention to the Danville Chamber of Commerce, and its Secretary, Mr. H. B. Watkins, for the courtesies shown.

Whereas, there is a sad lack in the proper instruction regarding the proper use of the Flag, and

Whereas, it is desirable to encourage the custom of displaying the United States Flag on such as Flag Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July and Armistice Day, be it therefore,

Resolved, that we the members of the American Legion, 5th District of Virginia, in Convention assembled, respectfully request our schools of this district to at least twice year instruct their pupils in the proper use of the flag, as outlined in a recent issue of the American Legion Weekly, and that we respectively call upon our citizens to display the flag on the above mentioned days.

Be it further resolved that we request all moving picture houses in this district to show a picture of the United States Flag once during each program on the above mentioned days, at the same time having their orchestras play at least two stanzas of the Star Spangled Banner, and that just before this is done, a notice be run stating that this is done at the request of the American Legion, and calling attention of the people to the proper method of showing respect for the flag and national anthem.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be presented to the State Convention, in an effort to make such movement state wide.

Whereas, the increasing use of the automobile has made travel over roads at night by buggies, wagons, etc., very dangerous and when automobiles, which are usually driven at a speed of ten miles an hour, are compelled to carry tail lights for the protection of the driver behind, and head lights for the protection of the man ahead, let it therefore,

Resolved, that we the members of the American Legion, 5th District of Virginia, in convention assembled, respectfully request our State Convention, through its proper committee to endeavor to have the next State Legislature to pass a law requiring buggies, wagons, and such vehicles, to carry at least one light (on left hand side) as a protection to the occupants of such vehicles, as well as a safe guard for the drivers of automobiles in preventing accidents.

We make this request, not to work a hardship on those who would be required to comply with such a law, but as a protection to the lives and property of persons using such vehicles.

Whereas, we the members of the American Legion of the Fifth Va. District feel that the time has come when we of the Southland should observe one Memorial Day in which we can all respect to our dead of all wars, and whereas it is desirable now that we are one people under one flag, to pay homage to those who fell in all American Wars, therefore,

Be it resolved, that the American Legion, 5th Va. District, in Convention assembled respectfully requests that the State Convention of the American Legion shall forward to the United Confederate Veterans a resolution requesting that they select May 30th as their Memorial Day, and that they unite with their sons and grand-sons in paying tribute to the dead of the Revolution, Mexican, Civil, Spanish-American, and World Wars alone on May 30th.

After the meeting yesterday had been opened by prayer by Dr. O. L. Owens of Winston, organization was effected.

Col. O. McCormick, of Chatham, district commander, was elected chairman and Spencer Williamson of Martinsville, was named secretary.

Waivey Cousins, in a brief but appropriate speech extended the welcome of the Danville Post to the visiting delegates. Henry B. Watkins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the visiting legionnaires on behalf of the city of Danville, saying that he hoped that the state convention could be secured and pledging the support of the organization of which he is secretary to and in obtaining the convention.

Gerard King, of Martinsville, responded to the addressees of welcome on behalf of the delegates.

A letter was read from E. G. Corvine, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., extending the privileges of the "Y" such as shower baths and swimming pool, to the visiting delegates, and welcoming the legionnaires to the city.

A resolution concerning the opening of the membership of the Legion to soldiers serving in the war, was on the side of the allies but in armies other than the American was introduced and precipitated much discussion.

The resolution was offered by Hugh Williams favoring the honorary plan as opposed to the non-veteran type of memorial.

It was soon seen that the delegates present were overwhelmingly in favor of the library, with a main library in Richmond and branch libraries in each of the congressional districts.

Dr. O. L. Owens of Windsor, made an eloquent plea for the library plan saying that he had given up his work at the solicitation of friends of the library plan, and was going over the state presenting the matter for the consideration of the various Posts.

The resolution of Williams was carried without a dissenting vote.

The matter of the 1924 convention was broached by Waverly Cousins who asserted that every effort should be taken to bring the convention to this city.

Representatives of the various Posts of the district pledged support and it is planned to have a large delegation at the Fredericksburg convention to urge the claims of this city.

The place and time of the next district convention was left to the executive committee. Both Martinsville and Chatham extended invitations in hope of securing the convention.

It was resolved that we, the members of the American Legion, 5th District of Virginia, in Convention assembled, desire to express our sincere ap-

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Stokesdale Methodist Church—Rev. S. E. Jones pastor. Sunday school at 10:00 o'clock a.m., Bible class taught by C. E. Harris; preaching at 8:00 o'clock p.m., by Rev. O. S. Gwynn.

Cabell Street Memorial, Rev. O. B. Nelson pastor. Ladies Sunday School in the city meets at 9:30. Question of annual picnic to be decided by the school. Splendid vocal and instrumental music. Brotherhood Bible class meets at 10 o'clock. Subject, "The Best Thing" sermon by the pastor at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Morning service at 8:00 a.m. and 8 p.m. by Rev. O. S. Gwynn.

Second Baptist, H. W. Connally, pastor. Sunday school 9:45. Evening service with Pastor, morning and night subject, "What Does Life Consist Of?" Children of God, Three B. Y. P. U.'s at 7 o'clock. Prayer service Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Keen Street Baptist Church Corner Keen and Church Street, Rev. Jesse R. Hite, pastor. Sunday school at 9:30 a.m., W. C. Chaney, Sup't. Preaching at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m., by the pastor, Prayer service Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Jefferson Avenue Christian Church Charles L. Garrison, pastor. Bible school 9:30 a.m., morning worship 11 o'clock, subject of sermon, "Send Me Union services at the First Baptist Church at 8 p.m.

Christian Science Society 537 Main Street, opposite postoffice Services Sunday at 11 a.m. in Subject, "God" Sunday school 9:45 a.m. Wednesday evening meetings 8 p.m.

Main Street M. E. Church South Dr. T. A. Smoot Subject, "The Voyage of Life" Union service at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church. Dr. T. A. Smoot, Sup't. Peatross Bible Class for men, G. Evans, Teacher, Epworth League meets at 7 p.m.

First Baptist Church, Sunday school at 9:30. In the absence of the pastor, there will be no morning service, Union service at 8 p.m. Preaching by Dr. Charles L. Garrison of the Christian Church.

</

THE BEE, DANVILLE, VA., SATURDAY, JULY 14, 1923

Cronkhite's Friends To Carry Case To Solicitor General

Shooting of Major Cronkhite, Son of Man Who Led Virginians in France, May Yet be Brought Out.

Still and Three Men Caught In the Alleged Act

State Prohibition Inspector W. T. Shelton today reported the seizure of the first illicit distillery captured for several weeks by law enforcement officers operating in this area. The coup was a successful one in every respect for three men were captured and a fine copper 150-gallon still with necessary accessories was destroyed.

Accompanying Officer Shelton were Deputy Sheriff T. F. Smith and County Officers E. T. Mack and County Rowles. On their trip to the site of the still the officers came into a tropical rain and they had engine trouble which delayed them. Reaching the designated point between Brights and Staunton riverheads four officers located the still and then reined to ambush to await the arrival of operators. After several hours three men, all laden with burdens arrived, and at daylight began work. Mr. Shelton says that the officers permitted the three men to carry on their activities until it was patent in their minds that they were preparing for a "run." The fire in the furnace, however, had not been lit when the small posse closed in. The three men were taken by surprise and submitted quickly to arrest party gave themselves up as Leland N. Plymton, J. H. Wolf and Leland Sanders, Plymton, according to Officer Shelton, is a prominent farmer and landowner in that section.

The still was a large copper outfit and is described by Mr. Shelton as the finest he has ever seen in Virginia. About 150 gallons of beer was mysteriously shot to death during the war in a camp in Washington State. Captain Rosenbluth and Sergeant Pothier were with Major Cronkhite at the time of his death. The military authorities at Camp Lewis never cleared the mystery up to the satisfaction of General Cronkhite or his friends. The State courts indicted both men but they have never been brought back to Washington State for trial.

General Cronkhite commanded the 6th Division in training at Camp Lee, Virginia, took the Virginians to France, led them in battle and brought them back.

It will be recalled that his son, Major Alexander Cronkhite, was mysteriously shot to death during the war in a camp in Washington State. Captain Rosenbluth and Sergeant Pothier were with Major Cronkhite at the time of his death. The military authorities at Camp Lewis never cleared the mystery up to the satisfaction of General Cronkhite or his friends. The State courts indicted both men but they have never been brought back to Washington State for trial.

General Cronkhite has continually brooded over the death of his son and made every possible effort to have the War Department push the investigation. When General Cronkhite was retired from service by the War Department about six months ago it was generally believed the action was taken because of his insistence that the Department sit to the bottom of the circumstances surrounding the death of his son.

Colonel Jennings C. Wise of Virginia, counsel for General Cronkhite, declared today that contrary to the general impression the recent decision of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals releasing Sergeant Pothier from custody does not end the efforts of the Justice Department to have Pothier removed to Washington State for trial. Neither has there been any check in the effort to have Captain Rosenbluth extradited from New York to Washington State he said.

The effort to have these two men brought to justice will be continued during the summer, Colonel Wise said, and failing in that it is expected that Senator Carter Glass will urge the Senate to investigate the mysterious death of Major Cronkhite.

The impression has gone abroad in the press that the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the First District, in favor of the decision of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, is to apply to the Supreme Court of the United States for a writ of certiorari under which the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals may be reviewed at the discretion of the Supreme Court.

"It is true," he added, "that the Supreme Court has repeatedly refused to review the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals in habeas corpus proceedings upon a 'writ' of certiorari; but it is also true that it has intimated that there was a question of great public interest involved the writ of certiorari might be granted. Therefore, I am hopeful in the Cronkhite case, which is one of great public interest, involving the jurisdiction of both the United States and a State of the Union, as well as the right of the United States to protect an officer of the army while on duty in its service on a Federal reservation. The Solicitor General will apply for a writ of certiorari prior to September 21, 1923, when the time within which the Supreme Court may be made expires."

"General Cronkhite's friends, while disappointed by the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals, are by no means downcast nor in their resolution to see the facts brought to light in this case in any way shaken."

"Upon the return of Mr. James M. Beck, Solicitor General of the United States, every effort will be made to induce an application by him on behalf of the United States for a writ of certiorari, and it is inconceivable to many persons that the Department of Justice will take upon itself the responsibility of omitting any act that remains which may result in the bringing to trial of the accused."

(By the Associated Press)

International Bible Students—The local class of International Bible Students meets Sunday morning 10:30 in the Owl's Hall, Main street, Bible study, Wednesday night, 7:30, prayer meeting and Bible study. Welcome. Seats free and no collections.

Just One Little Hug Costs Motorist $50

NEW YORK, July 13.—While he was driving his automobile with one arm around a pretty girl, Roger Watson of Bayside, Queens, became ratified yesterday when Patrolman Leon Ward and Smith of the Jamaica Station told him "watch your step" and lost control of the car, which crashed into a police booth at Hillside Avenue and Rock Hill Road.

Magistrate Conway in Jamaica Court fined Watson $50 trying to do two things at once. Watson had only $25, but the Court agreed to wait until today for the balance.

Bell Given Priest by St. Patrick Found in Abbey

(By the Associated Press)

BELFAST, July 14.—The ancient ecclesiastical bell of Nendrum, given to St. Mochard on his ordination by St. Patrick, has been found by workmen during the course of excavating the ruins of Nendrum Abbey.

The workmen found the bell hidden in an angle of the ancient foundations for the walls, while clearing away the debris which had collected for centuries.

"Last night I returned here to my husband, my boy, and these little children, and I don't think I could have faced them as we gathered at the supper-table if our verdict had been different, and I could not have slept with a clear conscience."

The bell is made of wrought iron, originally covered with a coating of bronze, and except for a crack at the base and a portion of the handle, which has been broken off, it is in perfect condition, though

STOCK MARKET

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 14.—Prices continued to move upward at the opening of the stock market today initial gains covering practically the entire list. Railway equipment and oils generally showed moderate advances over yesterday's final figures while Stuart Warner gained two points and American Ice 1 1/2 points.

UNIFORM FAIRS IN MEXICO

(By the Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, July 14.—Mexico soon is to have standard rates on railroad fares, applicable throughout the country. The cost of a first class ticket will be two and one-quarter cents, American money, a mile. Second class tickets will be one and one-eighth cents a mile.

Is Chicago To Be Deserted City? Faces Big Problem

Scenes and Personages connected with the Lake Michigan water level dispute. Arrows in large picture point to last year's water level in Milwaukee river where it enters Lake Michigan, showing a two-foot drop within a year. Right picture shows how the Chicago drainage canal has affected shipping. The dock at Muskegon, Mich., was flush with this steamer a few years ago. Below left to right are: John G. D. Mack, Wisconsin state engineer; E. M. White, Indiana attorney general; A. B. White, Michigan attorney general; William J. Healey, head of Chicago sanitary district; C. G. Hilton, Minnesota attorney general; H. L. Eckern, Wisconsin attorney general; W. G. Bluce, chairman, Milwaukee Harbor Commission.

BY GEORGE BRITT
(Special to The Bee)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 14.—Imagine a sterile, impassable desert or salt marsh in place of the blue sweep of the Great Lakes.

Or imagine Chicago as a slain ghost of a city, poisoned by waste from its own factories and homes, and famished for lack of the water which gurgled tantalizingly upon its beaches.

There you have the two extreme nightmare conceptions of what might happen, depending upon the possible settlement of the long-pending lawsuit over the city's diversion of lake water for sewage disposal. The attacks are designed to curtail or stop the taking of water from the lake.

Lake Water Flushes Canal

Reduced to the extreme result, they might end Chicago's picturesque achievement of reversing the course of its river and using it with a canal extension to link up a lakes in the gulf channel.

Chicago, in January, 1900, began taking lake water to flush its drainage canal to the Illinois River and sweep along its waste. A person from the Water Department gave the task of 4,167 cubic feet of water per second. As the city grew larger, Chicago increased its intake until it amounts to approximately 8,800 cubic feet. A final maximum of 10,000 cubic feet is desired.

The level of the Great Lakes has been declining for several years. In January, this year, it was approximately a foot lower than when the city began taking the water.

"Quite simple," say opponents of the Chicago plan. "Chicago is shallow points in the course of their journeys.

Health Gains.

Every inch of reduction in water depth at harbor entrances deprives them of so much carrying capacity. That must be balanced by increased freight rates.

Chicago's gain in health has been the most marked benefit from the diversion of the water. In the old days when the sewers drained into the river, and the river into the lake, epidemics of typhoid fever and similar diseases were frequent. Health figures for Chicago now average the highest of any large city.

Federal reports show, too, that by the diversion of a large amount of water here the proposed lakes to the gulf barge channel can be maintained much more cheaply than if the water is allowed only to trickle through.

Chicago does not propose to rely entirely upon its drainage canal to dispose of its sewage. It has spent $2,000,000 upon disposal plants since 1910, and has plans for spending nearly $100,000,000 more in the next 25 years. If it is not permitted to dispose of a part of it by flushing with lake water, however, it is estimated an additional $150,000,000 would have to be spent. And such a burden would be a crushing handicap upon taxpayers says Chicago.

Both sides are determined. And the courts will soon have to decide upon a question that is to have a most vital effect upon the whole of the United States—no matter which way it is decided.

Prepare To Scrap U. S. Battleships

Injured Cashier Holding His Own

Reports from Stuart are to the effect that H. C. Marshall, well known cashier of that place whose back was broken several days ago when he dived into shallow water in still holding his own.

Specialists from Richmond and Roanoke have visited and examined him and have concurred in the statement that surgery can accomplish nothing for him. The examination has disclosed that the backbone is broken below the neck and that the unfortunate young man has no use of his body below that point. Very little hope is held out for his recovery.

Doctors have ordered that he be kept perfectly quiet until a portable X-ray outfit can be taken to Stuart to show the extent of the fracture. Mr. Marshall is reported to be bearing up with great fortitude and to be hopeful of his recovery. He has a splendid physique which will be helpful to him.

Details of the accident received here show that Marshall, well known to a party of friends who went to the mud pond near Stuart station for a dip, the pond generally frequented by Stuart people but Marshall did not know that the ice was thinning, breaking along one side of the pond, overhanging shallow water. He was poised for the dive when friends saw him shout a quick warning. It was too late, however, for Marshall either did not hear them or else was so far over his balance that he could not recover it. He was dragged out of the water unconscious.

COTTON MARKET

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 14.—Yesterday's sharp advances were followed by irregular fluctuations in the cotton market during today's early trading.

The market opened at the same level as yesterday, but realization was promoted by the talk that mill curtailment in Fall River was to be put on an organized basis. The market opened at advances of 5 to 10 points on near months, but to 20 points lower on December and later deliveries and after closing at 24.55 on the call, October soon eased off four points.

Cotton futures opened barely steady:

July	.....	27.25
October	.....	24.60
December	.....	21.05
January	.....	23.75
March	.....	25.65

School Is Burned; Town Threatened

CLOVER, July 14.—The high school building proper and the school auditorium, both frame buildings were totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin here yesterday, which threatened the town.

Heavy work by the citizens of Clover was aided by the shift of the wind, which came just at the exact moment to save adjoining structures.

The Baptist church and J. M. Mast and company were saved though their destruction seemed certain.

Buy a Chevrolet and feel the difference.

Washington Takes Steps Towards Fulfilling Terms of Naval Limitation Treaty.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Washington's definite steps towards fulfilling the terms of the naval limitation treaty now ratified by all the powers were taken today by Secretary Denby when he called a meeting of the naval council to arrange details of scrapping the battleships abandoned under the limitation proposal.

Jim Hatcher Held For Higher Court

REEDSVILLE, July 13.—Jim Hatcher, charged with criminal assault, was given a hearing at Leeksville Tuesday and bound over to Superior court. The defendant was not allowed bond. Willie Mae Knight, a 16-year-old girl of Draper, claimed that one day recently she was accosted by Jim Hatcher, who asked her to sit under a tree. This she did not do. Then Jim who also works in the mill asked her to go for a walk. They went until they came to a spring.

They stopped at the spring but did not drink as the water was bad, and he persuaded her to go with him in search of another spring, against her will. She swore and from that time on it was a case of force. At this other point, is where the first assault was attempted.

The girl said she fought Jim all the time. If she would tell on them, "They said they would kill me and kill my father."

When she got home about the time the mill let out she was in pretty bad condition. She was afraid to tell her father and stepmother but told her sister. On Thursday night, she told her stepmother.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS

Deeds of bargain and sale recorded in the clerk's office of the Corporation court show the following transfers:

C. H. Dodson and E. L. Adams, from John L. Taylor and others, lot on White Oak street, Consideration, $500.

Riverside and Dan River Cotton Mills Inc., from J. C. Carter, special commissioner, 150 Front street, Consideration, $2,750.

R. R. Slaton, from W. C. Clayton and wife, 50 feet on Shepherd street, Consideration, $2,750.

R. L. Dodson, from Waddell Holland Co. Inc., 50 feet on First street, Consideration, $1,800.

COTTON REPORT ISSUED

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Cotton consumed during June totalled 542,166 bales of lint and 49,635 of linters, compared with 620,965 of lint and 54,728 of linters in May this year and 509,218 of lint and 57,817 of linters in June last year, the census bureau announced today.

STUDEBAKER BIG-SIX FIVE-PASSENGER COUPE $2550

The Big-Six Coupe Offers a Rare Combination of Elegance and Utility

Into the Studebaker Big-Six five-passenger Coupe have gone, without compromise, the finest design, materials, workmanship and the best of Studebaker's 71 years' experience.

Nothing has been left undone to make this big, roomy coupe as fine an enclosed car as can be built.

Certainly no car performs more brilliantly or is more luxuriously comfortable. None is more enjoyable to drive—and no other make of car is more completely equipped.

You will appreciate the generous roominess of this Big-Six Coupe, its sterling quality of body and chassis and its wealth of refinements—including the large trunk; extra disc wheel complete with tire, tube and tire cover; handsome nickel-plated bumpers front and rear; courtesy light; motometer; flower vase; clock; aluminum-bound running boards with corrugated rubber mats and step pads; rear-view mirror, automatic windshield cleaner, glare-proof visor, and many others.

Its low price is due to large volume and to the fact that Studebaker overhead is shared by three models—all sixes. Then, too, only one manufacturing profit is included in the Big-Six price because all vital parts are manufactured in Studebaker plants.

Studebaker has been building quality vehicles for more than two generations.

Power in surplus measure to satisfy the most exacting owner.

MODELS AND PRICES—f.o.b. factory

<

The Bee

PUBLISHED EVERY WEEK-DAY AFTERNOON
THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY.
EDITOR AND JAMES JR.
OWNER AND PUBLISHER.

TELEPHONES: BUSINESS OR CIRCULATION DEPT., NO. 21
EDITOR OR REPORTERS, NO. 328

THE BEE in the city and suburbs is owned by carrier, or their own account at 10¢ a copy, and sold by Jews boys of two cents a copy.

THE BEE by mail $4.00 a year; $2.25 six months; $1.15 three months, or 40¢ a month, payable invariably in advance.

NOTE: The above rates apply only to postal zones 1, 2, and 3. Rates beyond third zone will be determined by the Post Office.

Notice is mailed before expiration. Subscribers should give prompt attention to renewals.

Member of The Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the news from reporters on all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper, and the local news published herein. All rights of reproduction of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Entered at Danville, Va., Postoffice as second-class mail matter.

Liberal space will be accorded any person or institution feeling personally aggrieved by any expression in these columns.

A THOUGHT

A righteous man regardeth the of his beast; but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.—Prov. 12: 10.

THERE is no beautifier of complexion or form or behavior like the wish to scatter joy, and not pain, around us.—Emerson.

SATURDAY, JULY 14, 1923.

FRANCE HAS OPPORTUNITY TO WITHDRAW

France having failed to accomplish her object in occupying the Ruhr with a view to collecting by force payments on the German reparations account is given an opportunity to withdraw more gracefully than would have been possible had Prime Minister Baldwin held his peace. It is an avenue of escape from a futile mission, a mission which was technically correct when viewed in the light of laws providing redress for those to whom money is due and who through the channels of persuasive effort have failed to secure satisfaction. France however has been unable to apply effectively the civil laws protecting creditors on a national scale and there is no doubt that the cost of striving to compel payment from Germany has cost France more than she has won through the seizure of the industrial centers in the Ruhr valley.

It is not by any means certain that France will seize the opportunity offered. "Pride is a formidable barrier and the French government smarting under grievances, fancied or real, which have sprung up in the conflict of opinion with Great Britain over the Ruhr seizure will not readily take the cue from the British government which has depreciated the Ruhr venture. Had the offer come from some other nation France might have rejoiced over the opportunity to withdraw from an impasse.

The Baldwin proposal is one of the most important moves which have been made within a year looking to a re-establishment of Europe and drawing her out of the chaotic and confused condition in which the powers find themselves today. There is frank recognition of the danger in the European situation and the necessity of saving Germany from herself. With the cards placed on the table and evidence of an earnest desire to reconcile differences abroad the weight of American influence in foreign councils would be a tremendously helpful factor in reaching a settlement but the opportunity is destined to pass unheeded.

LABOR DRAFT.

Bulgaria is trying out a labor draft. It is modeled after the military conscription system by which all able-bodied males have to serve a certain length of time in the army.

This labor draft applies to women as well as men. It requires all members of both sexes—unless legitimately entitled to exemption—to perform a certain amount of work on behalf of the state. The period of service is eight months for men and four months for women. It may be demanded at any age between 20 and 40 years for men and 15 and 30 for women. Here we believe, is something new in history—conscription for peace-time service. It is a novelty. But it is workable, for the average person unquestionably would rather be drafted to work during peace for the common good than for battle service.

The labor draft being tried out in Bulgaria has interesting possibilities. Playing no favorites (theoretically, at least) it should help break down any caste system and eliminate slavery, just as army service under conscription places a draft picture on a common level. A common level is the ideal of what we call democracy. The idea of a peace-time labor draft might not appeal to Americans, but we have plenty of crime for whom a little compulsory work would do worlds of good. A country's aristocracy continues developing along roads now clearly laid out, something like a labor draft may become an imperative necessity, to put the brakes on the system and help maintain a balance of power. For rich and parasitic idlers, we'd recommend a few months' service at street cleaning or highway building.

As you ponder, the possibilities of a labor-draft system, maybe the same thought will strike you that occurs to us: We are creating in our country a financial aristocracy, with hundreds of degrees of money caste. And this is the gravest danger facing our democracy. Autocracies usually are destroyed from without, democracies from within. Democracy is born as a co-operation of the impoverished. It has its source in money. And in money is the fatal germ most apt to kill it. The snobbery and idleness that are made possible by wealth, coupled with greed for more wealth, destroy the democratic spirit of working for the common good. A labor draft, in the form of a net from which none could escape, might be an antidote for many of the problems that our nation is attempting to handle as matters of education and emotion. As in war, a labor draft could be camouflaged as "selective service." And, while we are at it, we might during the draft period sentence the poor to a taste of the luxury enjoyed by the rich, and the rich to a taste of the terrific grind and near-privation endured by the poor as habitual routine.

A SPOT IN PATERNALISM.

(Philadelphia Record.) One of the most interesting decisions that have recently come out of Washington is that of the Interstate Commerce commission refusing permission to the Virginian railway to build a short branch, but a mile long and costing $62,000, to reach new coal mines now being opened. The ground on which this decision is based, that there are already enough mines in the country that are consistent with the efficient use of carriers' coal and the aggregate car supply," is a novel one, and it is hardly likely that it will be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unchallenged. Not long ago the commission approved the plans of a railroad company which desired to build a branch line some 69 miles long to develop a new coal territory in southern Utah. No objection was then raised to the superabundance of mines already existing so far as it may be inferred that the commission considered new facilities a desirable addition to the economic resources of the Rocky Mountain region and Pacific coast.

If this new attitude of the Interstate Commerce commission shall be upheld, and it shall be allowed to go unch

Late News Bulletins

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK,

July 14.

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

Danville Cops First From Raleigh; Twins Win

Grandstand Gaff

Danville stands at the highest point in the league—with High Point. In the meantime Raleigh isn't want Winston to get lonesome in the basement.

Yesterday's was as near one-man game as the Tobaccoeans ever stage, and "Lefty" Wilson was that one man. Any twirler that can hold Carrith hiltless and just allow his team mates five safeties is "going great guns." In addition to his fine mound work, the portside section two of the Virginians' hits—one of them a single driving in the first run and the second, a double starting him around on the winning tally he scored.

Not satisfied with taking the same three Danville players swiped a base each—Resco, Dorman and of course Eddie Regan.

Along with another victory and a truce to the league lead comes the good word that Murph has signed another man to aid Cochlin in standing behind the plate so the rumps won't get hit. The new catch will be one of many recruits around these parts, for many moons have passed since the heavens sent Long Kearney first looked over the plains in the Piedmont. The veteran Jew has the experience which coupled with the pep of young Cochlin should bring out the best Herb's twirling corps has to offer. Kearny, who has heretofore taken his orders from the Durham manager, Lee Gooch also swings a wicked stick, which should be another in the chase pennants.

Although seemingly overlooked in the post-season games for South Atlantic, Greensboro at least gives Murph's raw credit for being among the contenders for second half honors:

The Danville club is now showing the way to other Piedmont league teams in the gallop after the nightcap laurels. But the race is young and teams will shift positions for about two weeks yet. However, Danville and Durham form the teams that will give the Patriots a bitter fight for the second half honors.

The Furniture Makers will be in town Monday and Stonewall Park is likely to be jammed on the occasion of their visit.

Winston Defeats Greensboro Club

WINSTON, July 13.—With Hengeshold keeping Greensboro under cover with only seven hits, the Twins recovered from their stomp today, winning 10-2.

Manager Bill Leard shifted his batting array successfully, it seems. Long, former lead-off-man, moved to third place, secured three hits and two runs out of three times up. Carter in the lead-off position secured two out of four. No one Patriot was credited with more than one safety, while O'Hara and Carroll went hitless.

Greensboro AB R H PO A E
Shay c. . . . . 1 1 1 0 0 0
Pierre c. . . . . 3 1 1 6 3 0
O'Hara M. . . . . 1 0 0 1 0 0
Conley rf. . . . . 2 0 1 1 0 2
Cox . . . . . 4 0 1 0 0 1
Carroll 3b. . . . . 4 0 0 0 2 0
Magrane ss. . . . . 4 0 1 0 0 1
Harris 2b. . . . . 4 0 1 0 0 1
Crews 1b. . . . . 3 0 1 0 0 0
Hayworth x. . . . . 1 0 0 0 0 0

Totals: 33 2 7 24 12 2

Winston AB R H PO A E
Carter lf. . . . . 4 2 2 0 0 1
Fuhrey ss. . . . . 2 0 0 3 4 0
Long rf. . . . . 3 2 3 0 0 0
Clarke cf. . . . . 4 0 2 0 2 0
Anderson 1b. . . . . 4 0 0 0 0 0
Leard 2b. . . . . 2 0 0 0 0 0
Faber 3b. . . . . 4 0 1 0 0 0
Hamby c. . . . . 3 0 1 6 1 0
Hengeshold p. . . . . 4 1 2 1 2 0

Totals: 30 5 11 27 12 1

Greensboro . . . . . 200 000 000
Winston . . . . . 100 030 100—5

Summary

Stolen bases: Carter, Long, Anderson. Sacrifice hits: Cox, Long. Three-base hits: Clarke. Double plays: Fuhrey to Anderson. Struck out by: Hengeshold 2. Left on bases: Greensboro 6. Winston 8. Earned base on errors: Winston 1. Time of game: 1:48. Umpires: Tandy and Alexander. Attendance: 300.

Fifteen Don'ts for Swimmers Issued by Health Expert

Health Commissioner Herman N. Sundesen of Chicago has issued this list of fifteen don'ts for swimmers at both city beaches and summer resorts:

Don't dive where particles of stuff are floating on the surface. They may stick you in the hands and face, causing abrasions.

Don't stay in the water idling about until your lips and skin become blue and you are exhausted with the cold.

Don't congregate in crowds at the beach. This cuts down the possible danger of infection.

Don't swim on a full stomach. Wait at least two hours after eating.

Don't swim if overexhausted.

Don't swim until exhausted.

Don't swim if you have heart trouble.

Don't dive without accurate knowledge of the water's depth.

Don't struggle if caught in a swift current or undertow. The force of the current will bring you to the surface.

Don't wade in water with arms over your head; you'll not be ready to strike if you step into a hole.

Don't cry for help in fun. You may sometimes need help and not get it.

Don't go in swimming alone unless you are an expert.

Don't swim in contaminated water.

Don't frequent the "swimmin' hole" where there are no life saving crews and no emergency hospitals.

Don't mind the remarks to be played tomorrow.

Passes Tell the Story of "The Passing of Babe Ruth"

New York, July 8.—(Special)—Babe Ruth has finished his last year in the baseball history of the world, by knocking off more home runs because of his ability to seek the ball. He became far the greatest drawing card the game ever had, and to cause of his drawing power he became the highest salaried ball player of all time.

Babe Ruth this year is in better condition than he was two years ago. He can hit a ball just as hard and just as far as ever, and yet with the season

CAN YOU BEAT IT! Copyright, 1928, by The Evening World By Maurice Ketten

Standing of the Clubs

High Point Trims Goochmen 7 To 4

American League

PIEDMONT

HIGH POINT

BOSTON 6: DETROIT 4.

SOUTH ATLANTIC

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

VIRGINIA

AMERICAN

NATIONAL

CHICAGO 4: NEW YORK 3.

INDIANAL

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

APPALACHIAN

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

INTERNATIONAL

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

APPALACHIAN LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ATLANTIC

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

APPALACHIAN LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ATLANTIC

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

APPALACHIAN LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ATLANTIC

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

APPALACHIAN LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ATLANTIC

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

APPALACHIAN LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ATLANTIC

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

APPALACHIAN LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ATLANTIC

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

APPALACHIAN LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ATLANTIC

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

APPALACHIAN LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

SOUTHERN ATLANTIC

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

DETROIT 4: NEW YORK 1

</

Giants Fall Before Pirates; Reds Cop On e

Jock Hutchinson and Bobby Jones Leading Golfers

(By The Associated Press)

INWOOD, N. Y., July 13.—Jock Hutchinson, of Chicago, a genial Scott, with eyes deep furrowed at the edges, with laugh wrinkles, and Robert T. Jones, of Atlanta, a youth long famous in the golfing world, led a field of 77 aspirants for the national open championship over thirty-six holes on the Inwood links today. Hutchinson set a new record for the course, with his score of 142, a seventy-two, and Jones was two strokes away with 144, a card that equalled Joe Kirkwood's low mark in the qualifying rounds.

Thus with the championship play half completed, the Scott, a close finisher in other tournaments, and Jones, who was within a stroke of the winner at Skokie last year, stood from 9 to 11 strokes ahead of the favorites, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Joe Kirkwood and MacDonald Smith.

But there are others besides the big guns pressing the Chicagoan, the young Georgian, Bob Cruikshank, professionals at the Shadmoor Club at Westfield, N. J., finished the first half of the play in 145, one stroke worse than Jones, and appeared the most formidable contender. Jack Forrester, of Hollywood, another Scott, and Francis Gallett, of Port Washington, N. J., who came from Scotland only recently, shot an excellent game and tied for the fourth place with 148.

Al Watrous, Canadian open champion, Willis Ogg, of Worcester, Mass., and Cyril Hughes, of Lancaster, Pa., were close behind the leaders. Walter Hagen was around in 152, MacDonald Smith, the San Francisco come-back, one stroke worse, while Leo Diegel and Joe Kirkwood, with George Sargent, of Columbus, president of the Professional Golfers Association, were in the first twenty with 146. Gene Sarazen, champion at Skokie, was around 147.

Jones was the only member of the tournament bridges in the first ten. William Reekie, of Upper Montclair, N. J., was tied for fourteenth place. Eddie Held, of Webster Grove, Mo., Francis Ouimet, "Chick" Evans, Jess Sweetser and Richard Welsh were running behind. Walsh, the public-links champion, had 174 and it was doubtful if he would continue tomorrow.

Eight of the starters today withdrew before the round was ended. They were lesser lights.

Jones, playing with Hagen had great galleries. His brilliant 71 in the morning was due to a great extent to his accuracy in pitching to the pin. He had four birdies on that card and would have had another but for a missed putt.

There never was a more serious young man at work than the Jones of today. There was determination written across his brow as he started out. In troublesome places he was unperturbed, cool and deliberate. The most difficult places only made him smile. Off the tees he was powerful and accurate. Even the powerful Hagen could not outdo him.

But for two unlucky putts in the afternoon, Jones would have equalled his morning card and been in a tie with Hutchinson. On the fourth and fifth greens his second putts rested on cup lips. His 73 gave him 144.

Hagen Proves Poor Putter

Hagen was poor putter, made an inaccurate iron shot in the morning and was in trouble on a majority of the holes in the afternoon. He had to make many remarkable recoveries to keep his score down to 152.

Jock Hutchinson and John Black of Wichita made merry over all the 72 holes. Every time Jock had a bad lie he whistled a merry tune, then swung. There were some greens where he had to sink 25 and 30 foot putts for par, but he sank them. There were some where he had long putts for birdies, and he made them.

Black didn't have such a low score, his 158 strokes including such things as penalties for lost balls and out of bounds, but he had a good time.

In the final 36 tomorrow Hutchinson will have Joe Kirkwood for a partner. Jones will play with Gene Sarazen. Cruikshank is paired with Hagen. Today's leaders and their scores follow:

Jock Hutchinson, Chicago, 142.

Robert T. Jones, Atlanta, 144.

Robert A. Cruikshank, Westfield, N. J., 145.

Jack Forrester, Hollywood, N. J., 148.

Francis Gallett, Port Washington, N. Y., 148.

Al Watrous, Redford, Mich., 149.

Willie Ogg, Worcester, Mass., 150.

Cyril Hughes, Lancaster, Pa., 150.

William McIlroy, St. Louis, 150.

Jack Burke, St. Paul, 152.

Walter Hagen, New York, 152.

John Farrell, Mamaroneck, N. Y., 152.

McDonald Smith, San Francis co., 152.

William Reekie, Upper Montclair, N. J., 154.

William Creavy, Kansas City, Mo., 154.

Leo Diegel, Washington, 154.

Joe Kirkwood, New York, 154.

Eugene McCarthy, Philadelphia, 154.

Joe Canausa, West Point, N. Y., 154.

Kinks o' the Links

by PRO

In medal play if the player farther from the hole believes the ball of his opponent, which is the hearer, may handicap him in his putting, can he request his opponent to lift his ball?

A player has the right to ask his opponent to either lift or play his ball as he chooses.

Two players in a match game reach the putting green on the second shot. The one—a trifle nearer the hole puts first and holes out. This being contrary to the rule, what attitude should be assumed by his opponent relative to the play?

If an opponent who is nearer the hole plays first, you may recall his stroke and make him replace his ball and wait until you have putted.

Is there a time limit on trying to find a lost ball?

There is a definite time limit to look for a ball! A player has five minutes in which to find the ball. Failing to do so in that time, it must be considered a lost ball.

Talk Post-Season Series For Title

Over in Greensboro they're talking of a post-season series to decide the South Atlantic championship, said series to be participated in by the winners in the Sally, Piedmont and Old Dominion leagues. Certainly sounds good. Such a series would be a bang-up attraction, but there is one matter evidently overlooked—that the State of Virginia also has several clubs in the Piedmont and Virginia circuits at least. Things seemed to be doped out for the proposed series to be altogether "Carolina in the Morning". Wilson is scheduled to take the Old Dominion honors, Charlotte the South Atlantic and Greensboro the Piedmont. Herb Murphy's crew has an idea that there will be a hitch in the plans somewhere for they're after playing in at least one little series themselves—the one with Greensboro, and then, perhaps, some more.

The South Atlantic championship story:

"North Carolina is basking in the baseball limelight this year and now baseball readers should be directing their attention and making plans for the greatest post-season series of games ever held below the line of the Messrs. Mason and Dixon. Thought should be given to the fight for the South Atlantic baseball championship which could be brought about by post-season series with the winner of the Old Dominion, South Atlantic and Piedmont leagues."

"Two North Carolina teams have already been declared winner of a first half season. Charlotte has copped the laurels in the South Atlantic league, and Greensboro has finished over the tape a winner in the Piedmont loop. The Virginia league has a straight season out. Wilson, one of the North Carolina members of the circuit, is right at the top making a strong bid for laurels.

"The Virginia league and the South Atlantic league close their seasons about the same date. Should Charlotte win the second half chase in the Sally loop the Hornets and Virginia league winners could then stage a post season series of seven games. The winner of the series would then be called upon to play the winner of the Piedmont league, the South Atlantic championship fight not close.

"The Birmingham circuit will not close its 1923 campaign until September 10, but that would give the Sally league and Virginia league club winners an opportunity to play their series first. Thus, it behoves Charlotte and Greensboro to go out and win the nightcap laurels and thus avoid the necessity of playing a post-season series in their own league to decide the pennant winner."

"With such a championship at stake the fans would flock to the baseball park in much larger numbers than if a team was playing a post-season series with another team in the same league. There are few people in the Southland who attend the world's series, the baseball classic of the world. But with such an arrangement, Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia could stage its own world's series. All these states would be interested in the outcome for all are represented in the three leagues."

"The Piedmont circuit takes in North Carolina and Virginia cities while the Old Dominion wheel has representation in four Virginia cities and two North Carolina cities. The Sally league club franchises are held by North and South Carolina and two Georgia cities.

"Then, if Charlotte and Greensboro would break over the tape a winner in the last half it would help baseball more than anything else for the fans would then be convinced that a club winning the first half does try to cop the nightcap period as well."

Siki Forswears Bright Lights; Out After Dempsey

ing him to arrange a match with Dempsey.

"Siki is no longer a savage. He's civilized. He's serious and ambitious. He has given up the night life of Paris."

Siki trained faithfully for his bout with Nilles, his manager said. He abandoned his usual routine of mixing strong drink with bouts with waiters in Paris cafés. He trained at a small village far from the lights of Paris.

It took Georges Carpenter eight rounds to stop Nilles several weeks ago. Now the French boxing federation demands that Siki and Carpenter meet again for the French heavyweight title held by Siki. The federation demands that the contract be signed at once.

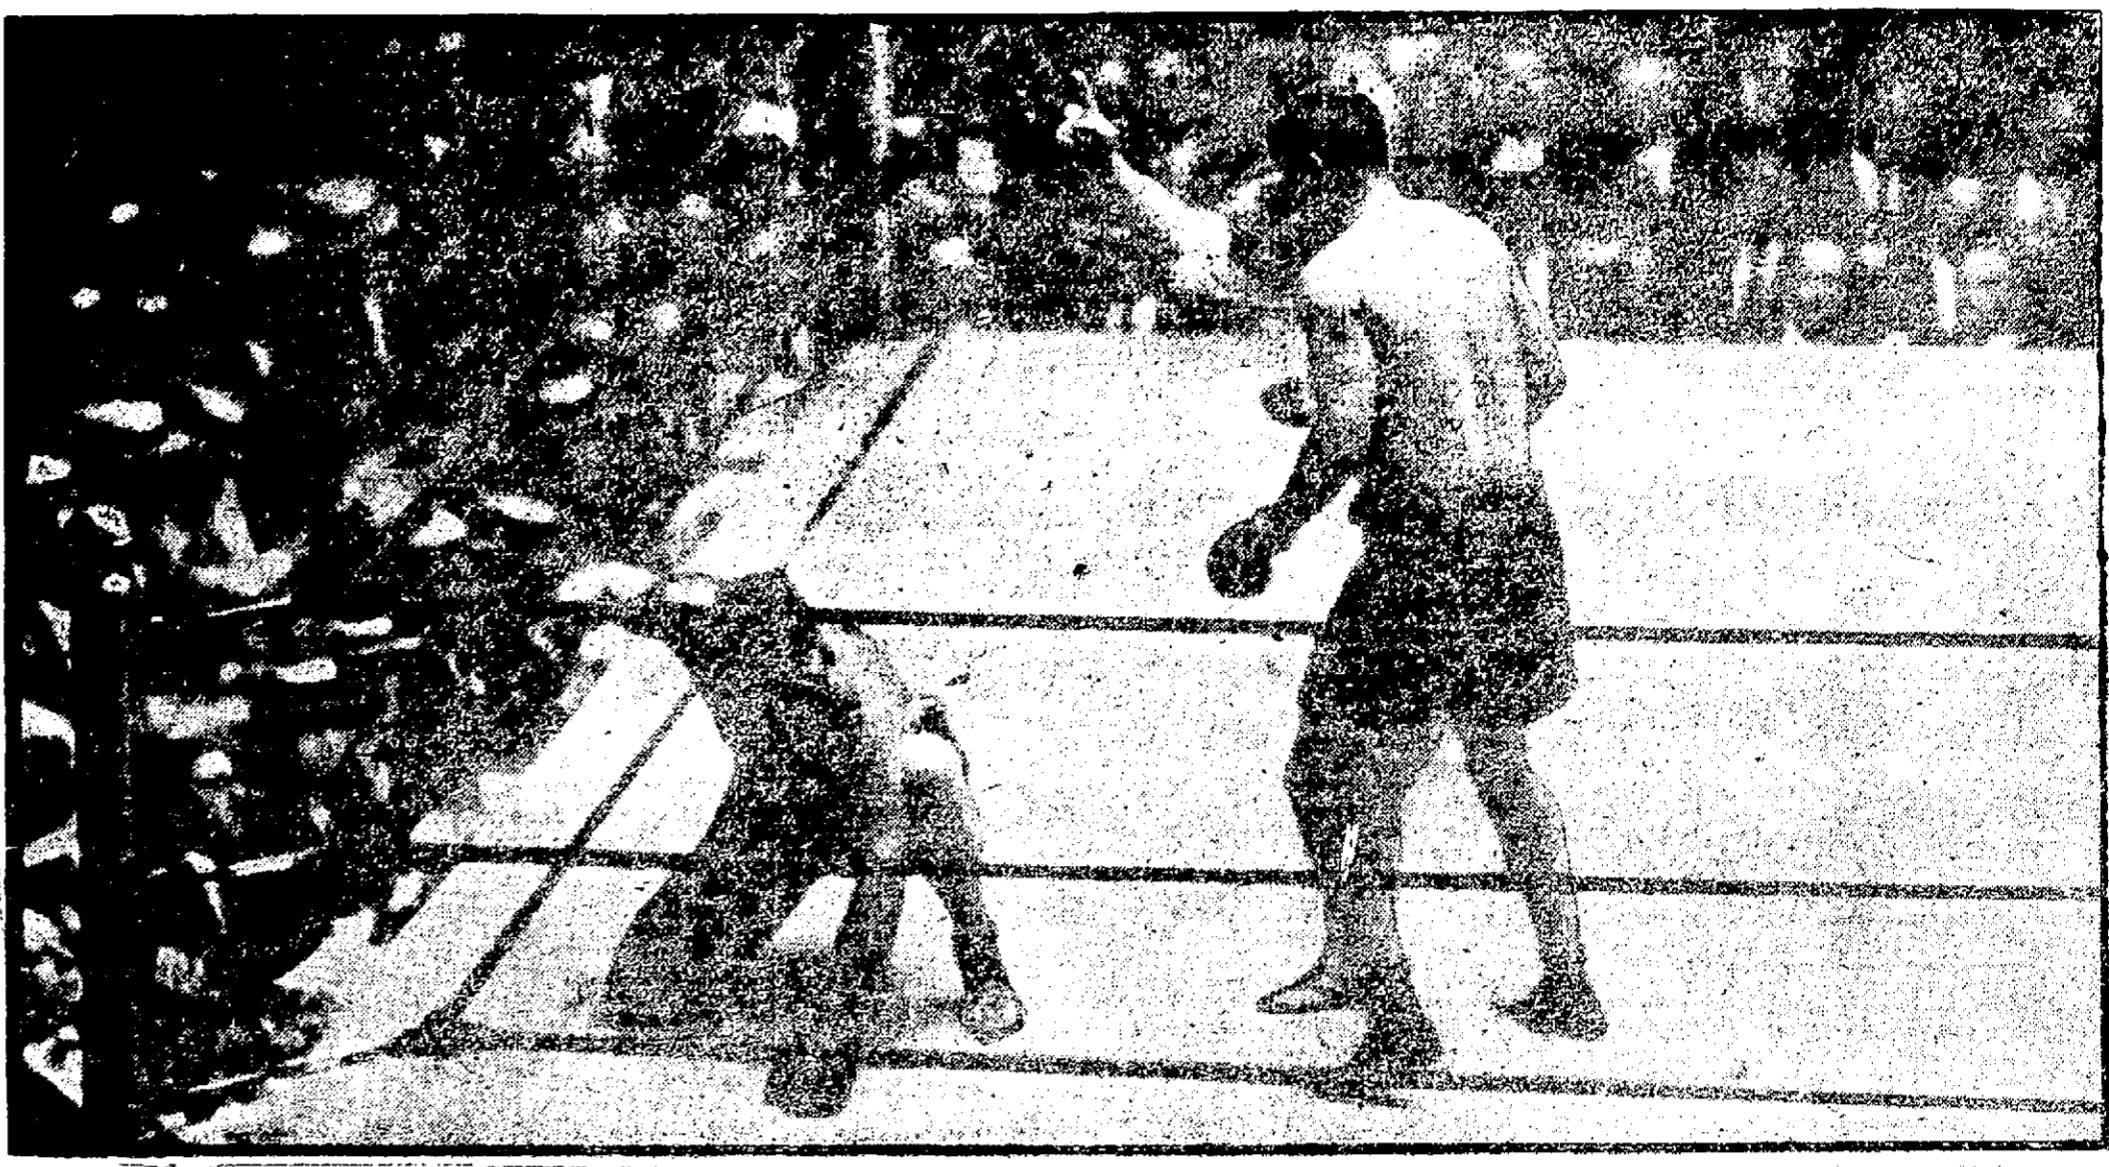

Dufremont said Siki also wants to fight Mike McTigue, the Irish boxer, who defeated him in Dublin.

"I hope to arrange a bout with him in the United States," said Dufremont. "It will be a different story from Dublin."

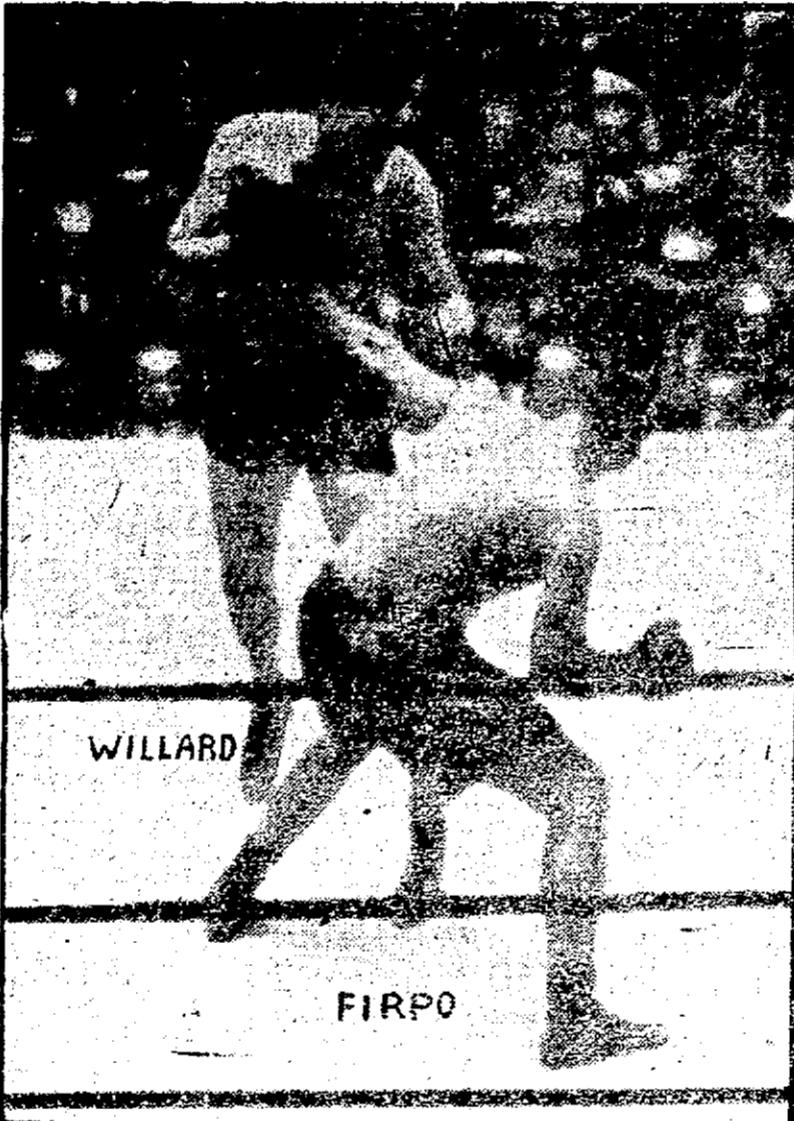

PARIS.—[Special]—Siki, the battling Senegalese, conqueror of Georges Carpenter and of numerous head waiters in the cafés of Paris, is a changed man. His manager, M. Dufremont, says so. Siki has forsaken wine, women, song and fighting outside of the pugilistic arena. "Siki and I are going to America soon," Dufremont said. "I foresee victory over Marcel [Kerssen Photo] Nilles, former heavyweight champion of France, and

Camera Story of Firpo-Willard Battle

Willard being counted out in eighth round by Referee Lewis.

Firpo ready to let haymaker go.

Willard lands left as Firpo tears in.

Firpo Is Looking For More Victims For His Prowess

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 13.—Luis Firpo, tireless battler of the Argentine, who added wonderous and aged Jess Willard to his victims last night before a record crowd at Boyle's Thirty Acres, today was looking for more pugilistic worlds to conquer.

A series of conferences, however, during the day failed to bring any nearer his prospective title match with Jack Dempsey, and indications pointed to the probability that Firpo, admittedly still lacking in a finer points of ring science, would have one or two more testing matches before he gets a shot at the title.

As a matter of fact Firpo in the course of a long talk with Tex Rickard at Madison Square Gardens expressed a desire to fight Harry Wills, New Orleans negro who has stood out as a title challenger for more than a year, before meeting Dempsey. The sombre South American, bearing no outward marks of the conflict in which he crushed the come-back hopes of the former champion last night, logically added he was ready to "fight anybody any time, any place."

Bickard also conferred at some length with Jack Kearns, Dempsey's piolet, but said he had no definite match in sight right now, though he hoped to put on another heavyweight show, either as a further elimination, or for the title itself.

It developed today that both Firpo and Willard went into the battle handicapped by torn arms due to training mishaps. This was pointed to by both fighters in explanation of their apparent inability to do maximum damage with their left hooks and jabs.

Firpo also confided at some length with Marcel Nilles, his manager, but said he had no definite match in sight right now, though he hoped to put on another heavyweight show, either as a further elimination, or for the title itself.

Rickard, past obtain Dempsey and Kearns' signatures before booking the fight, but the latter said today the champion would be ready to face Firpo whenever satisfactory terms were offered.

The promoter admitted, incidentally, that he had practically abandoned all idea of staging a championship fight between Dempsey and Firpo in the latter's native city, Buenos Aires.

Rickard, as well as other New York promoters, including those having boxing concessions at the Polo Grounds and Yankee Stadium, are likely to bid for a Wills-Firpo match. Firpo's contract with

BOTH TILDEN AND MANUEL ALONSO HARD PUT TO WIN

(By The Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 13.—Both Manuel Alonso, Spanish star, and William T. Tilden, American champion, were forced to five sets to win semi-final matches of the men's singles in the thirteenth national clay court tennis tournament here today.

Alonso was pushed to the utmost to defeat Wallace Johnson, of McLean, Va., skilled exponent of the chipped stroke. He won 6-2, 6-2, 5-6, 6-2, 6-1. Tilden defeated Robert Kinsey, of San Francisco, 6-3, 6-5, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

The doubles advanced to the semis. The Kinseys won from Conrad and Bettens, of California. Burdick and Bastian defeated Emerson and Mertz, of California and Hengessey and Westbrook won from Adams and Barr, of Dallas, Texas, while Tilden and Wilder were defeating Kipp and MacKay.

Total receipts amounted to $120,920.70, which with the deduction of the federal tax, was reduced to $320,527. Willard's share of the net receipts, thirty per cent, amounted to $117,000 while Firpo's share, twenty per cent, was $87,600. These figures tallied closely with last night's usage of the gates.

It developed today that both Firpo and Willard went into the battle handicapped by torn arms due to training mishaps. This was pointed to by both fighters in explanation of their apparent inability to do maximum damage with their left hooks and jabs.

Antonio Roselli, of Argentina, won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race, and the third best of the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Marion Clegg drove Hot Metal, owned by the Standard Oil Co., to win the third race by taking two straight heats. He passed the second race in 2:03.14, the third race in 2:12.12, and the third race in 2:17.10, carrying the future of the track in his hands.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Charles H. Youngblood, driver of the 1923 Ford, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard, too, was held over from the opening race. He won the second race after finishing sixth in the first race.

Willard,

AUTO ACCIDENTS JUMPED 42 P. C. IN THREE YEARS

Mrs. Creighton Was Acquitted

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, July 13.—Lia Spivack, driver of motor vehicle, was found guilty of motor vehicle driving in the result of an accident in the past three years, it was decided by the trial court of state legislators, sitting in session at the State Capital, and was sentenced to a term of six months. Mrs. Ann Creighton, wife of the defendant, was required to remain in jail until the trial was completed.

The foreman pronounced the guilty verdict at 11:30 p.m. yesterday. Mrs. Creighton came to a report of the U.S. Attorney, J. Cox, traffic incident to which she was involved in a few minutes, to the National Insurance Company, to the State of New York, to the court house. There were 14,000 accidents last year, he said.

After a short recess action on the problem, and a brief examination of the two sides, the jury returned to the courtroom. This was the only casualty reported to the court house.

At the close of the trial, the court adjourned to the rear of the courtroom where the two sides were engaged in a conference. Mr. Cox has had no opportunity to examine the witness, and the trial will be continued.

Connecticut, New Jersey and Connecticut have filed bills which would require drivers to have a license before driving 42,000 cars over the country, according to the U.S. Attorney. There were 14,000 accidents last year, he said.

"City" news states that the examination of the motor vehicles by the state's regular chauffeurs is now being conducted and many of those drivers examined. An attorney for the defense said there must be something to be accounted for, and that he would be present at the trial.

It was the second time within a month that Mrs. Creighton who is 21 years old, had faced a verdict of guilty of causing her mother to be stricken with a heart attack.

The charge of poisoning her mother, who faced about her husband after having been accused of aiding in the alleged poisoning of his mother, is the first time the two members of the Creighton family had brought benefit to the defendant. No other member of the family was offered. The case ended in a hung jury.

Although Premier Baldwin failed to make specific demands to settle issues as far as Germany or France, resistance to intervention in the League of Nations or the American suggestion of an international commission of inquiry German foreign officers opinion as informal expressed, reflects appreciation of the outspoken manner in which the British statesman stressed the economic aspects of the situation, as well as declaration that the Ruhr occupation should be ended as soon as possible.

While temporarily suspending active procedure, the entire Mr. Baldwin government nevertheless contributed to retaining the signatures of foreign officers official speaking in Kenworth's behalf, member of the State, as actually concerned in the formation of a new reparation plan by the British government. This official added, when asked if the German government had volunteered to draft the note, "I hope that the interrogations will be answered today."

It is generally assumed that the United States will be included among the powers to which drafts of the proposed reply to Germany will be communicated. But there nothing official, known on this date nor has anything been done concerning the probable consequences of the British reply.

Mrs. F. W. Townes is spending a week in New York. She is the wife of the British ambassador to the United States.

But a Chevrolet and the different types of the British reply

Mining Towns In Northwest Were Wiped Out By Fire

(By The Associated Press) WALLACE, Idaho, July 13.—Mrs. Mary L. Creighton, on trial here for the alleged poisoning of her mother, was found guilty of the offense. Mrs. Ann Creighton, wife of the defendant, was required to remain in jail until the trial was completed.

The foreman pronounced the guilty verdict at 11:30 p.m. yesterday. Mrs. Creighton came to a report of the U.S. Attorney, J. Cox, traffic incident to which she was involved in a few minutes, to the court house.

There were 14,000 accidents last year, he said.

After a short recess action on the problem, and a brief examination of the two sides, the jury returned to the courtroom. This was the only casualty reported to the court house.

At the close of the trial, the court adjourned to the rear of the courtroom where the two sides were engaged in a conference. Mr. Cox has had no opportunity to examine the witness, and the trial will be continued.

Connecticut, New Jersey and Connecticut have filed bills which would require drivers to have a license before driving 42,000 cars over the country, according to the U.S. Attorney. There were 14,000 accidents last year, he said.

"City" news states that the examination of the motor vehicles by the state's regular chauffeurs is now being conducted and many of those drivers examined. An attorney for the defense said there must be something to be accounted for, and that he would be present at the trial.

It was the second time within a month that Mrs. Creighton who is 21 years old, had faced a verdict of guilty of causing her mother to be stricken with a heart attack.

The charge of poisoning her mother, who faced about her husband after having been accused of aiding in the alleged poisoning of his mother, is the first time the two members of the Creighton family had brought benefit to the defendant. No other member of the family was offered. The case ended in a hung jury.

Although Premier Baldwin failed to make specific demands to settle issues as far as Germany or France, resistance to intervention in the League of Nations or the American suggestion of an international commission of inquiry German foreign officers opinion as informal expressed, reflects appreciation of the outspoken manner in which the British statesman stressed the economic aspects of the situation, as well as declaration that the Ruhr occupation should be ended as soon as possible.

While temporarily suspending active procedure, the entire Mr. Baldwin government nevertheless contributed to retaining the signatures of foreign officers official speaking in Kenworth's behalf, member of the State, as actually concerned in the formation of a new reparation plan by the British government. This official added, when asked if the German government had volunteered to draft the note, "I hope that the interrogations will be answered today."

It is generally assumed that the United States will be included among the powers to which drafts of the proposed reply to Germany will be communicated. But there nothing official, known on this date nor has anything been done concerning the probable consequences of the British reply.

KISSING CLOUDS NO THRILL AT ALL SAYS NOTED FLYER

MRS. BERTHA DAHL HORCHEL

(Special to The Bee) RANSOM, Kas., July 14.—Scaring more than three miles above the earth is not much of a thrill!

That is what Mrs. Bertha Dahl Horchel of this city, who holds the altitude record for women fliers, says. She recently attained the height of 16,100 feet at St. Louis in a Curtiss plane with a Hispano-Suiza eight-cylinder, 180 horsepower motor.

"It wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the tree miles?"

"Going up the first 8,000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week than in her altitude record.

How does it feel

Read The Bee Want Ads For Profit!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

OH! MY FEET!
Painless Treatment.
Phone 668-605, Main St.
7-13 R&B 2

COME TO CARTER EMPLOYMENT OFFICE DANVILLE, VA. Good opportunity for white and colored laborers at Wheeling Steel Works, Wheeling, W. Va., and Stubenville, Ohio. Apply at office 528 Craghead St.
7-12 R-Btf.

WONDER ALADING MACHINE equals $1000 machines. $1 deposit required. After trial send $9 or return machine. Saunders Willard, Rocky Mount, Va. 6-16 B&R 1 mo*

WHEN HUNGRY TRY THE WHITE HOUSE CAFE. Home Cooking; 100 per cent American. 116 Market street. 6-19 R&Bmo

MR. MERCHANT
Goods well-displayed are half sold. Stateville show cases will solve your display problems.

HAMILIN & HAMILIN
Distributors. 6-28 R&B 1 mo

PLUMBING & HEATING
Fred D. Anderson
I made it right.
300 Bridge street, Phone 708.
1-10 R&B 1

THE BEST IS ALWAYS
the cheapest. Call 150 Farley Plbg. & Heating Co. Contractors and Engineers. R&B 1

For Quick Taxi Service call Cunnell Transfer Co. Phone 1731. Mamie Gurnell. 7-12 B&R 1 WA

FOR SALE — WHITE HOUSE Cafe. 116 Market St.

BOOTH'S DRUG STORE
Open all day Sunday and half the night. Batt-Rsunif.

FOR SALE — FARMS.

FOR SALE — TOBACCO-GRAIN farms, 10 to 500 acres, 2 miles. Danville. C. B. Smith. 6-25 R&B 1 mo

CREED SHOULD NOT BE BARRIER

By The Associated Press)
LAKE JUNALUSKA, N. C., July 13.—Speaking before the Junaluska Sunday School Training School of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Dr. J. W. Shackford denounced those who would put barriers of creeds and dogmas in the way of young people, declaring that leaders should be concerned with doctrines only as they affected folks, and interpreted the spirit and teachings of Christ. God, he asserted, intended science and religion to go hand in hand.

Between two and three hundred students enrolled for the college credit courses this morning.

DOLLAR WHEAT

(New York World)
Wheat is pounding around under $1 a bushel in the Chicago market, and that means a farm price considerably smaller. Yet the current Government crop report indicates a wheat harvest for the United States 40,000,000 bushels below that of last year. But, on the other hand, a Government canvass of Northern Africa, Europe and India shows that larger acreages than last year have generally been sowed to wheat this season and that good yields are assured.

Prices are tumbling here, accordingly, rather than up, export prospects for the American surplus than on home overproduction. Foreign wheat-growing countries have thus taken us at our word and our policy. We want isolation even in economic matters, and have testified to it through a tariff on imports whose rates are the highest ever imposed. Barred or high-taxed away from this market on what they have with which to pay for American wheat, they have turned to make themselves as independent as possible of any reliance on the United States for white bread.

Thus was when "dollar wheat" was the familiar slogan and maximum demand of the American farmer. But that was when the dollar would buy something and better than meet the bare cost of production. Now the dollar will buy little more than half as much, and for a bushel of wheat falls short of bare cost of production. And for practically everything the wheat-grower must buy the Fordney-McCumber tariff is in part responsible for this depreciation of the dollar.

This is what he gets for the 30-cent-a-bushel tariff on wheat which the Fordney-McCumber gave him, and what he now thinks about that bargain will be indicated to a degree by the Senatorial election in Minnesota early next week.

EARTHQUAKE IS FELT
LONDON, July 13.—An earthquake was felt in the vicinity of Ferme. Sicily, this morning says a Central News Dispatch from Rome. No damage was reported.

Miss Matilda Chatelein is visiting at Central Academy at Stuart.

Paoli, "Guardian of Kings" for 30 Years in Paris, Is Dead

PARIS.—Xavier Paoli, police official and "guardian of kings," who arranged former Empress Eugenie's escape to England, is dead in Paris at the age of 91.

Xavier Paoli retired from the French secret service in March, 1909, after thirty years' service as France's special guardian of royal visitors. During that time he protected the lives, while in France, of Queen Victoria of England, King Leopold II of Belgium, King Gustav of Sweden, King Edward VII of England, King Alfonso of Spain, the empress of Austria, and many other nobles. He became a fast friend of Queen Victoria, who conferred special honors upon him.

Xavier Paoli, the Russian czar and czarina, King Leopold of Belgium, King Gustav of Sweden, King Edward VII of England, King Alfonso of Spain, the empress of Austria, and many other nobles. He became a fast friend of Queen Victoria, who conferred special honors upon him.

Xavier Paoli was born at La Porta, Corse, in 1833.

WHEN WORDS FAIL YOU

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SAVE OUR TICKETS AND GET free work. We do all family wash. Phone 921 for wagon. Wet Wash Laundry. 5-7 B&B

MOVED

Auto Tire Sales Co.,
Now located 514 Loyall St. Tires, tubes and accessories, gas, oil, repairing and storage. 5-36-22 B 1 vr.

CLOTHES WASHED 5¢ lb. Sent for and delivered. Phone 1322. Danville Damp Laundry. 513 N. Union St. We give S. & H. stamps. 12-27 Btf

FOR THIS WEEK ONLY
30x3 1-2 Michelin cord tires $14.25, tube $1.00 extra. Drive in. Truck & Tire Co., 217 N. Union St. 7-11 B&R 1 mo

W. R. EDMUNDO & COMPANY,
Heating and Plumbing, 222 Craghead Street. Phone 2127 and 1387. R&B

BEWARE OF HAIL: INSURE your crop now. Hail is disastrous. KEELING BROS. Insurance and Real Estate. 1-14 R&B 1

IF YOU WANT SOME BARGAINS in used and new furniture see Sam Motley Inc. has them at the Exchange Warehouse. Phone 1553-W. 7-13 B&R 2t

WANTED — MISCELLANEOUS

WANTED TO RENT — 6-ROOM house or ground floor flat in good location. P. O. Box 587, City. 7-12 B&B sat mon wed

FOR RENT — HOUSES

FOR RENT — 6-ROOM HOUSE, 2 baths and garage on N. Main St. Call 500-W. 7-10 B to thu sa R sun

WANTED — FARMS.

WANT TO HEAR FROM OWNER having farm for sale; give particulars and lower price. John J. Black, Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin. 7-14 B sat 3t

FOR SALE — REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE — EIGHT-ROOM RESIDENCE for sale at a bargain with 75x200 foot lot. Has all modern improvements and is located in one of the best residential sections of Danville. Reply to P. O. Box 194, Danville, Va. 7-13 B&R 3t

TRUSTEE'S SALE OR PERSONAL PROPERTY. Pursuant to the terms of a deed of trust from the Piedmont Machine Works, Inc. and recorded in the clerk's office of the Corporation court of Danville, Virginia, in the Miscellaneous book No. 1, at page 252, default having been made in the payment of the debt therein secured, and at the request of the beneficiary, I will sell at public auction, on Tuesday, July 17, 1923, 10:30 a. m. all the following personal property located at 215 Lynn street, Danville, Virginia: Portable air compressor, air hammer, No. 60; air drill, chipping hammer, set iron shears, 2 5-H. P. electric motors, auto turn-over machine, acetylene generator, 15-in. lathe, 12 ft. taper attachment, blocks, 2 16-in. chucks, 27-in. lathe, 10 ft. key seating machine, complete small drill press, chuck, 20-in. drill press, 2 chucks, boring mill, planer, small air compressor, 3 emery stands, 6 emery wheels, bolt machine, combination, automatic head, Does milling machine, set dividing heads, cutters for milling machine, hacksaw machine, 10-ft. 1-in. pipe, 5 ft. 20-in. lathe, 26 ft. 2-chuck and fixtures; electric drill, electric grinder, cylinder grinder, 24-in. Keiser boring machine, testing machine, Universal boring machine, head, hand dies, bolt and pipe, pipe machine, equipment in welding dept., shafting, pulleys and belt, 2 sets of scales, blacksmith shop equipment, drills, reamers and taps, vises and shop's small tools, burning in machine, desk, check protector, safe, steel cabinet, time lock, cash register, supplies and stock on hand. Terms, cash.

GRASSTY CREWS, Trustee.

R. M. FOSTER, Auctioneer.

7-7 B sat tu thu sat mon

FOR SALE

189 acres of good tobacco land, three miles from Danville. Improvement consist of a six room two story dwelling, three room frame cottage, a 4-room log tenant house, four tobacco barns and stable.

Also a nice little farm on the Danville-Franklin turnpike containing 31 acres, with three-room frame house, one tobacco barn, and stable. See

J. R. STEPHENS,

WITH

WADDILL-HOLLAND CO., INC.

ARNSTEIN'S FRENCH DRY CLEANING

Call Phone 80

Accordion, Knife and Box Pleating.

"Always the Best."

gambling houses of Moscow are tired and heavy eyed, which is about seven o'clock every morning, there come gaily into their rooms groups of fresh and wakeful men, just up from a good night's sleep. They are alert and brisk, and they play against the croupiers and dealers of the all night Mother Knows

Mother smiles to herself when the youngsters are fastidious about their clothes and accessories. She knows how sensitive they are when it comes to their personal appearance—so she just sends them wearing apparel to us and lets back to enjoy the smile of delight when the snow-white linens come home. Let us bring sunshine into your home. Join our long list of pleased customers. The Star Laundry phone for the wagon—No. 85.—Adv. B&R

Foundry and Machine Work

Handled efficiently and promptly at our plant on Spring Street, Danville, Va.

Westbrook Elevator Mfg. Co.

Lest We Forget

Many a mistake or loss has come by forgetfulness. No man can remember all the time. But an institution can. This bank watches your interest for you and looks after your money and is on the job every minute.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

DANVILLE

Established

1872

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

WANTED: STOUT BOY OVER 16 to learn printing trade. Apply at the Register office. 7-15 R&B 2t

WANTED AT ONCE: 12 FIRST class finish carpenters. Apply John P. Pettyjohn & Co., New Bleachers, Schoolfield, Va. R&B

YOUNG MAN POSSESSING FAIR knowledge of bookkeeping. Good opportunity for advancement if intelligent and industrious. State education, experience and salary expected. Apply Box 250, care Register. Chatham, Va. 3-28 R&B 1

FOR SALE AUTOMOBILES

FOR SALE — ONE FORD COUPE. Bought new last Christmas. Splendid condition. Can be seen at Reynolds Meadow Service Station. 7-8 R&B 6t

WANTED — ONE EXPERIENCED white waitress. Reference required. Phone 896 or Box 131. 7-12 B&R 3t

WANTED — GOOD Wheelwright at once. Danville Wagon Co. 7-14 R&B 1

FOR SALE — 3 SHARES MASONIC Corp. stock. Phone 105-J. R&B

FOR SALE — GLASS doors $4.50; wood doors $3; 6-lt. sash (each) $1. Harris Coal Co. 7-14 R&B 1

FOR SALE — 1 DOZEN good strong lawn benches. Danville Wagon Co. 7-14 R&B 1

FOR SALE — MILK COW FOR SALE or exchange. S. W. Scarcro. 218 E. Thomas St. Phone 1485-J. R&B

FOR SALE — 4 ROOMS FOR account of fire. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR SALE — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 2 FURNISHED rooms for light housekeeping. 617 Wilson St. phone 902-W. 7-9 B&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street. Telephone 1375-W or 1949. R&B

FOR RENT — 4 ROOMS FOR light housekeeping. 544 Patton street.

OUR FISHING HOUSE

BY GENE AHERN.

CALL FOR MAJOR HOORLE!

THE BEE

Comic and Feature

—Section—

SATURDAY, JULY 14, 1923.

Do You Know When To Keep Still?

"Don't let a harsh, unmusical voice ruin your personality and charm," warns Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr. "If training won't improve it, rather remain dumb!"

By FLORENZ ZIEGFELD, Jr.

BECENTLY I have been interviewing girls who aspired to a place in the chorus of the "Follies." And a few days ago I had an experience which no doubt you have had frequently, one which it is difficult to understand. Every woman ought to know better than to make other people undergo it, but few women do.

A number of girls were sitting in the corridor outside my office, when I stepped out of the elevator. One of them attracted my attention immediately.

She was not merely beautiful; she was striking. She had wavy, yellow hair, that was wound about her head in braids. Her eyes were brown, with a touch of amber in them. Her face was remarkable for its contours. She had a beautiful figure. Even a casual glance showed that she was out of the ordinary, so far as appearance went. And, since this matter of selecting girls who will live up to the reputation of the "Follies" girls for beauty is no easy thing, I rejoiced and was glad.

Presently the first six girls were summoned to my office. The unusual blonde was among them. The second glance at her verified the impressions of the first.

And then—she spoke. Horrors of horrors! She shattered the effect of beauty anew with every word that she uttered. If she was to be beautiful, certainly she would have to be dumb as well.

Her voice was harsh, nasal, rasping. It should have been low, not necessarily musical, but pleasing in its cadences. She should have spoken with the slightest suggestion of a foreign accent. At least, that was what her beauty led one to expect. In type a Viennese blonde, she should have made her voice part of the role that her looks fitted her for so perfectly. The shock experienced when she spoke was too much for any beauty to inflict on the public, and discounted the charm of her appearance.

Now, haven't you had that very same sort of thing happen to you? And haven't you wished that the girl in question would realize that her voice was a potent factor in her beauty, and should be made to play its part?

I once knew a very homely woman who shocked people in just the opposite way. Her voice was really wonderful. Persons who did not know her, and talked with her over the telephone, were enchanted. They wanted to meet her at once. I have sat without looking at her while she talked and wondered if my memory wasn't playing tricks on me—if she wasn't really as beautiful as her speaking voice led one to think she must be.

Why Not Have a Voice?

It isn't difficult to make a voice. Vocal lessons are not prohibitive in price, as a rule, but if they are out of the question, there are excellent books on the subject of voice training that are obtainable at any public library.

Of course, you may feel that you haven't the time to study. If you are a woman who is bringing up a family, managing a home, going about day after day with a hundred details on your mind, you're pretty busy, of course. I grant that.

But—so is a chorus girl busy. She not only has to fill her job—which takes six evenings and two afternoons a week, when she's playing—but she has to go to rehearsals, too. She has to take dancing lessons. She has to dress well, which may mean that she has you hear them speak, you know from their fat, thick voices what they're like. Their minds are as sluggish as their bodies.

"I've heard that woman say that she didn't understand why chorus girls so frequently marry wealthy men. She said that she supposed it must be the lure of the stage. I longed to tell her that the average chorus girl is alert, mentally, that she works hard, that she has to be right on the job every minute of every day, and doesn't overlook a single bit when it comes to making herself attractive."

I'll digress a bit, if you don't mind. Important as beautiful voices are, I'd like to pause and say just one more word on the subject this friend of mine was talking about.

If You Really Live?

The reason that she finds time for all this is that she makes it. She uses her time. She lives every single moment of her life, even when she's asleep.

She lives in the country, and it takes her two hours to get home after the theater. You'd think she'd be ready to tumble into bed when she got home, wouldn't you?

But she doesn't do that; she exercises for fifteen minutes before she goes to bed, so that she'll sleep well. She can't afford to lie awake, you see. She falls asleep instantly, she says, and when she wakes in the morning, she feels wonderfully refreshed.

You'll find that most young women of the stage, if they are the sort that last, that get ahead in the profession, use their time. They don't sit around talking about what they ought to be doing; they do it. At rehearsals, during the brief intervals when they're not working, they're quite likely to be doing a bit of sewing.

Wasting time is a luxury they can't afford, and they are wise enough to know it.

You can practice vocal exercises while you're doing something else. Your family may protest, the neighbors may comment but what do you care? Beauty certainly is worth having, and any voice can be made beautiful if its owner is sincere in wanting to make it so.

The Secret of Some Girl's Charm

Not long ago a friend of mine was telling me of one of his neighbors, who has two daughters. The girls were in their teens—about sixteen and eighteen years old, respectively—and their mother has their career all outlined for them. They are to marry millionaires.

"I wish you could see them!" this friend of mine exclaimed to me, with despair in his voice. "They're young elephants. The elder stands about five feet seven, and weighs a little over two hundred. The younger is shorter, and fatter. I can't even guess at her weight."

"The girls have fairly good features, fairly good complexions. But lazy! Never have I seen anything like them. When they're in a room adjoining the one you're in and life, improving your general health along with your voice.

Janet Megrew

A Mental Daily Dozen

And you'll have to exercise your mind, too. Not long ago a charming young actress told me that she had written some poems and sold them.

"I did it in desperation," she said. "I'd heard so much about actresses like me being dumb, not knowing a single thing, that I decided to have a thought every day. I took a notebook to rehearsals with me, and between times I'd think and think, trying to round up just one thought that would be worth writing down.

"At first it was awfully hard work, but after a little while it began to be easier. Then I tried writing little scraps of verse, and now I'm reaching the stage where I think I'm a poet."

You'll find, if you study vocal culture, that you have to know what you're going to do before you try to do it. When new girls are being trained for the "Follies" the ones who have had the most thorough training as dancers are of course the easiest ones to teach.

right tones, you're waking it up. You'll notice that you're more alive, because you're using your mental equipment in a new way.

But don't, I beg of you, make for yourself a voice that doesn't belong to you.

One of the most important things to remember is that, just as your looks are of a certain type, your voice must run true to form also. If you're the señorita type, a contralto voice will probably be the one that belongs to you.

Or perhaps your voice will be a mezzo soprano.

If you're a very light blonde, a high, sweet, silvery voice will be most likely to express your personality best.

This is a thing that you'll have to decide for yourself, or, if you have a good singing teacher, your problem will be solved for you.

But—be sure it's solved right.

Don't let yourself admire your teacher's voice so much that you produce a mere imitation of it.

If you do, your voice is going to be affected, empty, a challenge to people not to like you.

The right voice will be a potent factor in making you more beautiful. Don't neglect it!

Concerning Keeping Still

If you just can't make your voice over, keep still as much as possible.

That may seem like brutal advice, but it isn't. After all, the girl who knows when to keep still, when to be a good listener, is well on the highway to glory.

Not long ago a young man whom I know was talking to me about a girl with whom he had fallen in love. Apparently the young lady was very popular; he was bewil-ling the terrific competition that he was up against in trying to win her.

"What's the secret of her charm?" I asked. "Is she clever; do you like to talk to her, or what is it?"

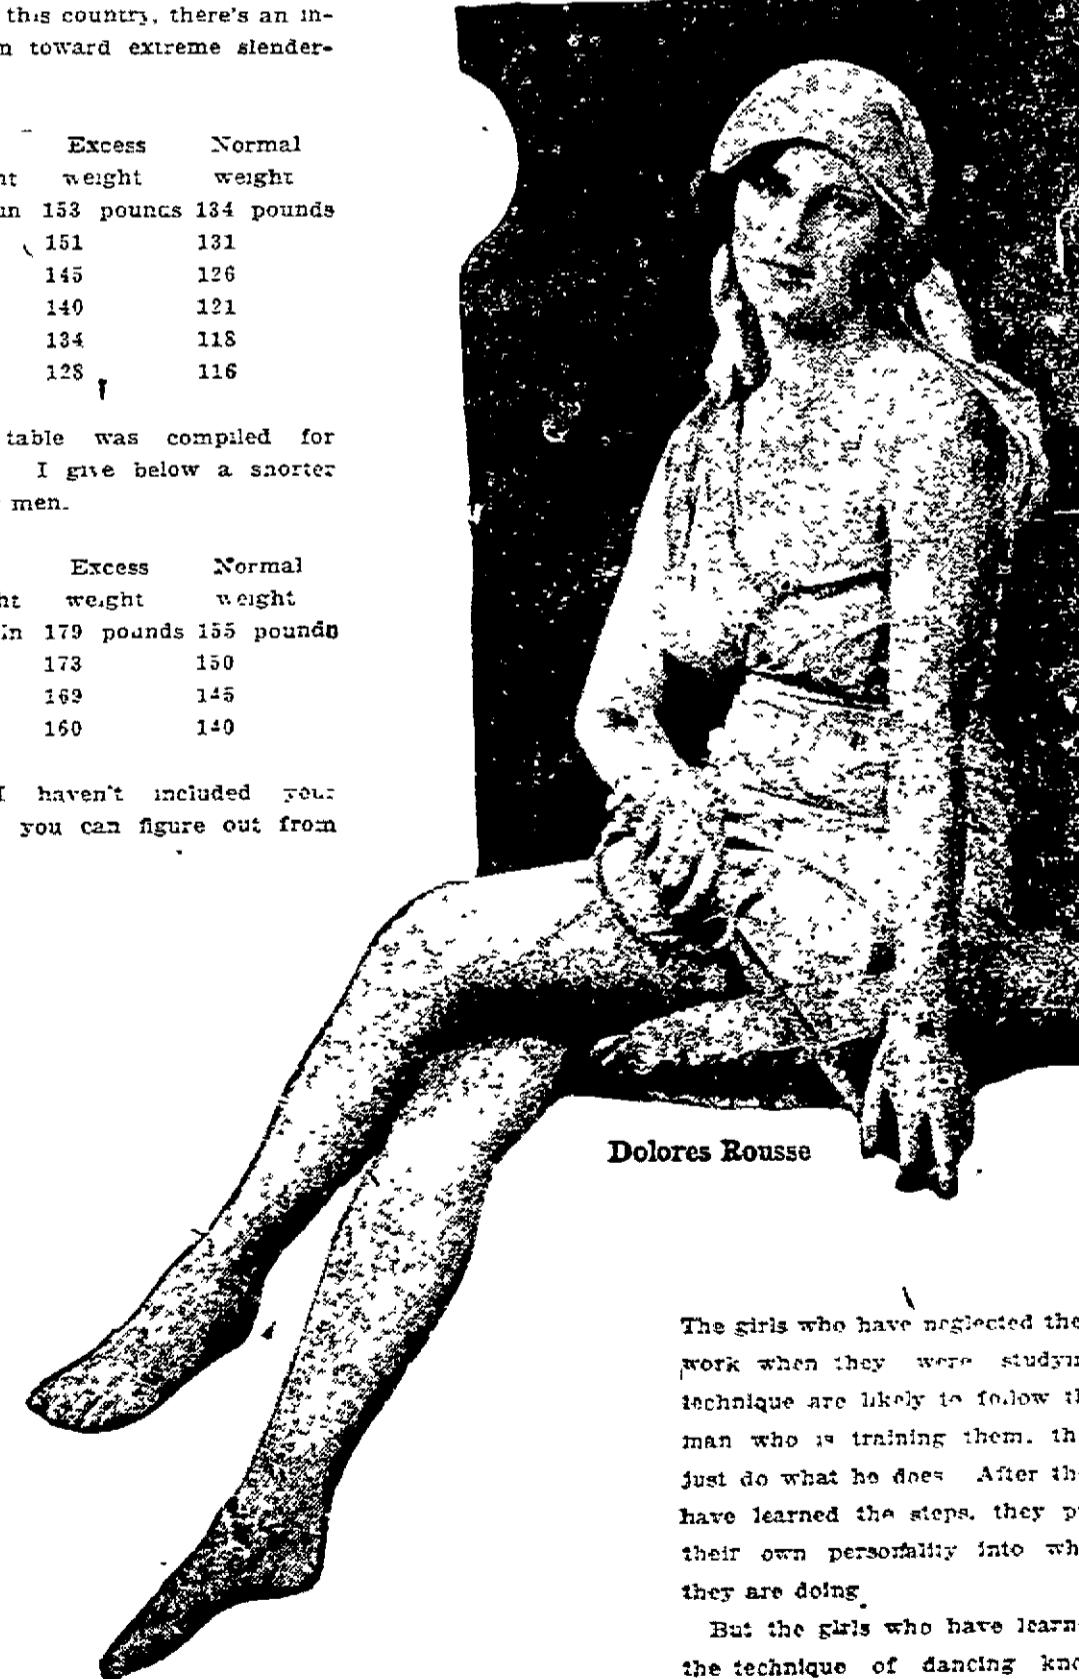

"I don't know," he answered.

"She doesn't talk much. She has big gray eyes, and she looks up at you and says: 'Do tell me all about yourself,' and you do, and then when you stop, she sighs and says: 'Oh, how wonderful!' Do tell me more about yourself!" And then she just sits and listens."

She knew, when to keep still, you see. And even after all this advice that I've given you about cultivating a beautiful voice, I'm going to add one last warning that may seem to discount much of what I've said.

Learn to speak beautifully—but don't forget to learn when to keep still!

A low, musical voice with a slight foreign accent would seem to suit Sonia Ivanoff,

Dolores Rousse

The girls who have neglected their work when they were studying technique are likely to follow the man who is training them, they just do what he does. After they have learned the steps, they put their own personality into what they are doing.

But the girls who have learned the technique of dancing know what they're about from the very start. They've learned the alphabet of dancing, whereas the other girls are like children who try to spell without knowing the alphabet.

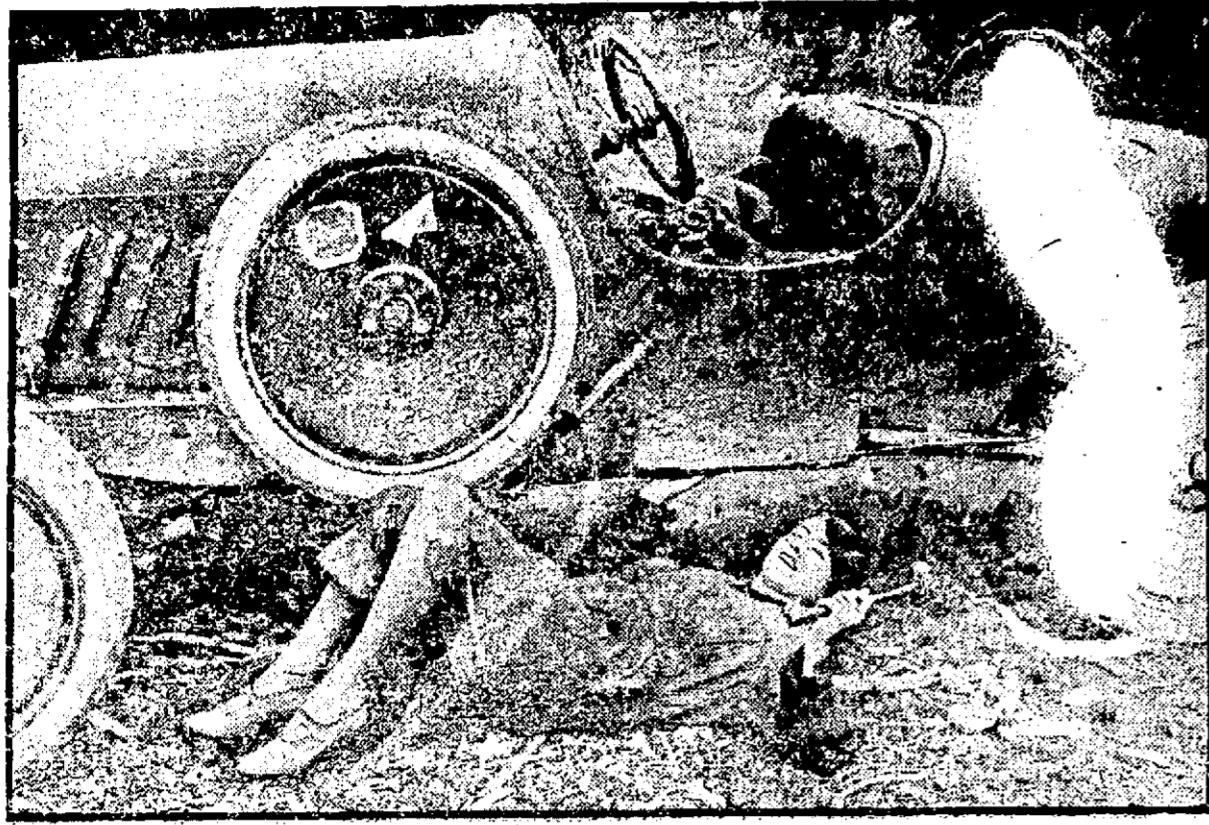

Now, you'll find that as you put

Frances Keveaux has a voice that fits her personality. That's why she gained her place in the "Follies."

LAST MINUTE PHOTOS WHO'S WHO IN THE NEWS

A Case of "Get Out and Get Under"

"Sonny" Whitney and Bride Return

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney recently returned from Paris, where they were married in May. Mrs. Whitney was Miss Marie Norton of New York and Westbury. Mr. Whitney is a son of Harry Payne Whitney.

This Landing Was Good, But—

In first stop after hopping off from Long Island on coast-to-coast flight attempt which ended in failure at St. Joseph, Mo., Lieut. R. L. Maughan is here shown making successful landing at Dayton, Ohio.

Another Royal Love Match

The engagement of the Swedish Crown Prince to Lady Louise Mountbatten, kin of King George, has been announced. Photo shows smiling couple.

A Page Out of Colorful Past

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
When her reconstructed flivver broke down at the entrance to Yellowstone Park, Miss Elsie Balluth of Chicago "got out and got under" and, with the aid of a hammer (and a photographer) fixed it all up again.

Deportation Blights Her Career

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
With fame and fortune almost in her grasp, Miss Gladys Westby was deported to her parents in England, although a "big contract" awaited her signature for a moving picture engagement.

Boudouin Waterboy

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
The waterboy is usually of the poorest cast inhabiting the small oasis near Touggourt, Algeria. This lad has just filled his jugs from a well.

WHO'S WHO WHAT'S WHAT

Kidnaped by Cupid

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Believed to have been held by gypsies, Miss Leslie Tolman (above) of Salem, Mass., was found searching for marriage license with John Bull, her sweetheart.

Tugboat Scoffs at Drawbridge

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Members of Swiss Guard, wearing the uniform designed by Michael Angelo, on guard at the outer gates of the Vatican, the home in Rome of the Pope.

Record Breaker

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Miss Sybil Bauer, Chicago, broke own world's record for 150-yard backstroke swim when she covered distance at Long Beach, N. Y., in 2:01.3-5.

Bureau of Mines Chief

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Shown here with the electroscope he invented for measuring radium ore content is Dr. Samuel C. Lind, new chief chemist of Bureau of Mines.

New Mexican "Outrage," as Brewery Tempts Yankees

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Who said beer was taboo? Here is a brand new brewery which opened its doors on July 1. BUT—it's located just across the international line in Mexicali, Mexico. Its chief trade will probably be derived from thirsty Americans in California who want a drink bad enough to cross the line to get it.

(Copyright, 1923, Pacific & Atlantic Photos, Inc.)

LAST MINUTE PHOTOS WHO'S WHO IN THE NEWS

Huge Derrick Fire Threatens Oil Fields

Fire caused by the breaking of a pipe line and its subsequent ignition, destroyed several derricks in the Signal Hill oil field, near Long Branch, Cal., and for a time it threatened to devastate the famous field. The picture shows a part of the burned area just before the blaze was put under control. Damage is estimated at $200,000.

Church Romeo Sees Stars

For kissing his pretty young bride, Lieut. Wesley McLaren Hague, U. S. N. (above, with bride), thrashed Rev. George Lyman Paine, prominent Boston divine and father of two Harvard students. Minister apologized later, but may be removed.

A Gentle Pet?

Among arrivals on S. S. Minnekhada of the American Line in New York was Kaiser (above), one of nineteen German police dogs which will become good Americans.

Real Bombs Smash Bridge in Mock Warfare

Between 80,000 and 90,000 people witnessed aerial pageant at Hendon, England, when fliers of the Royal Air Force bombed and destroyed bridge, as shown in photograph. The King, a chief of the Air Service, accompanied by family, attended.

Europe's Lure

(By Pacific & Atlantic) Miss Isabel Pell, well known society girl, recently departed for Europe for a vacation tour through Continent.

Merry Mermaids Tempt Neptune With Tin-Pan Quip

Positively yes—we have no bananas! At least that seems the wisdom this fair record-holding trio of the Ambassador Swimming Club, Atlantic City, is dangled before the eyes of the world. They are (from left to right): Olive Filer, Sarah McGarvey, and Dorothy Hucknall.

America's Loftiest Hotel

One of the points of interest to American travelers is Camp Muir, nestling in niche of Mount Rainier at an altitude of 10,200 feet. It is regarded as the loftiest hotel in America, and, strange to say, is built of volcanic rock. Climbers rest here on their trip to the top.

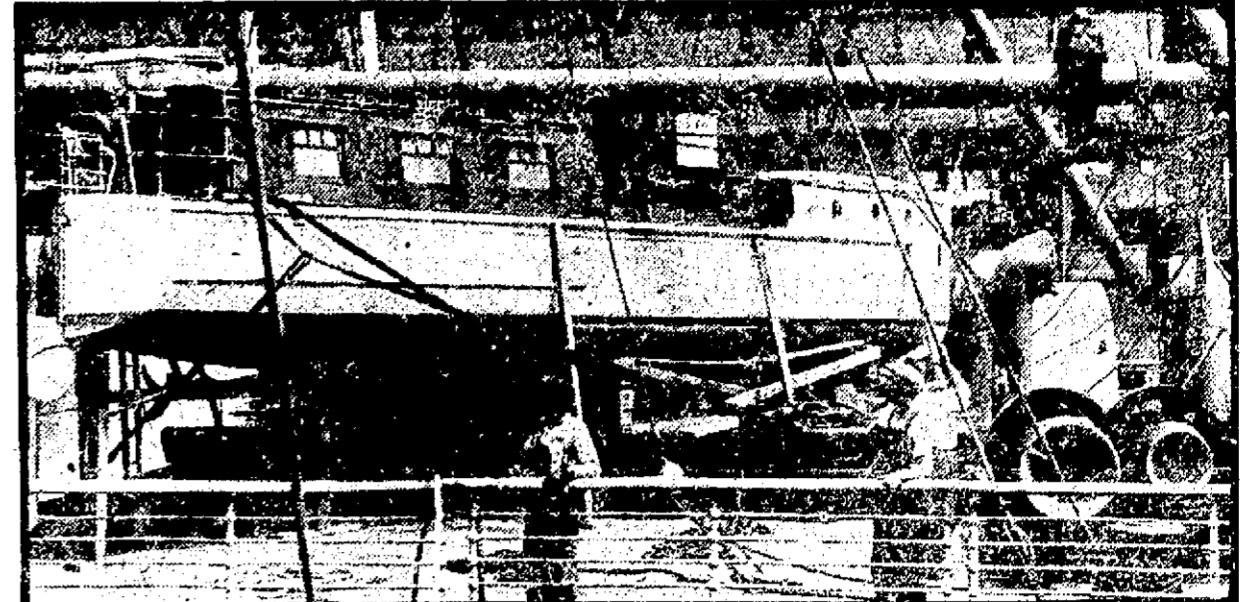

Indicted

William Fallon, noted New York criminal lawyer, was indicted by U. S. Grand Jury, charged with bribing juror.

During a recent storm in Kansas City, Mo., this great mass of rock and dirt was loosened and came tumbling down on motorcar. Fortunately no one was hurt, but automobile was considerably damaged by impact.

Look What's Here!—"Made in Germany" Comes Back

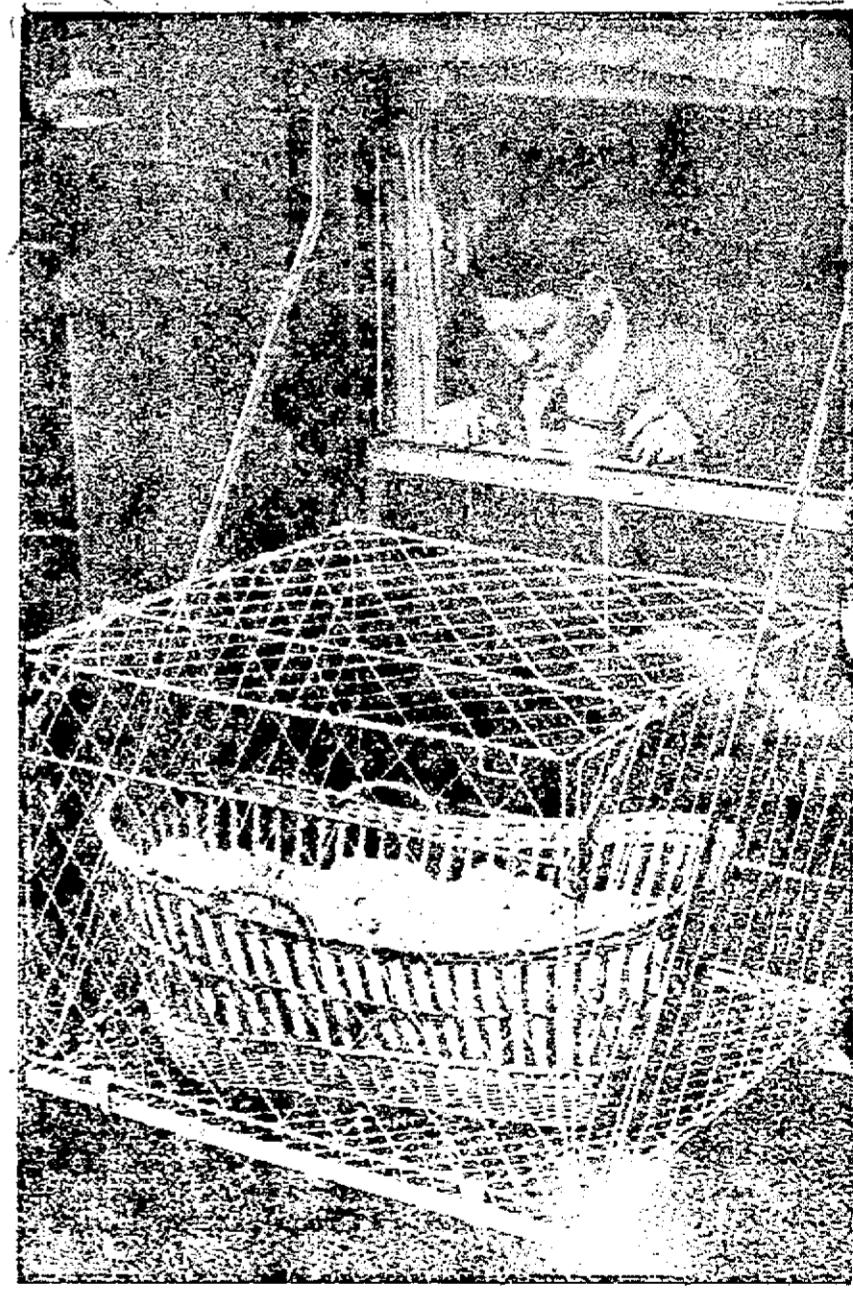

In line with Germany's attempt to recapture her old markets, the arrival in New York of the motorboat Olga on board the S. S. Minnekhada is regarded as an important event. The boat (above on the deck of the steamer) came from Hamburg and is consigned to an American firm.

An Indian Psychic

One of the few Indian psychics, Princess Wahletka, a half-breed Cherokee, is shown here reading the mind of Mrs. John Westfield in New York City.

Here's the Latest in Cradles

London flats are not particularly bright or well ventilated, so this infant's daddy built a cage outside his bedroom.

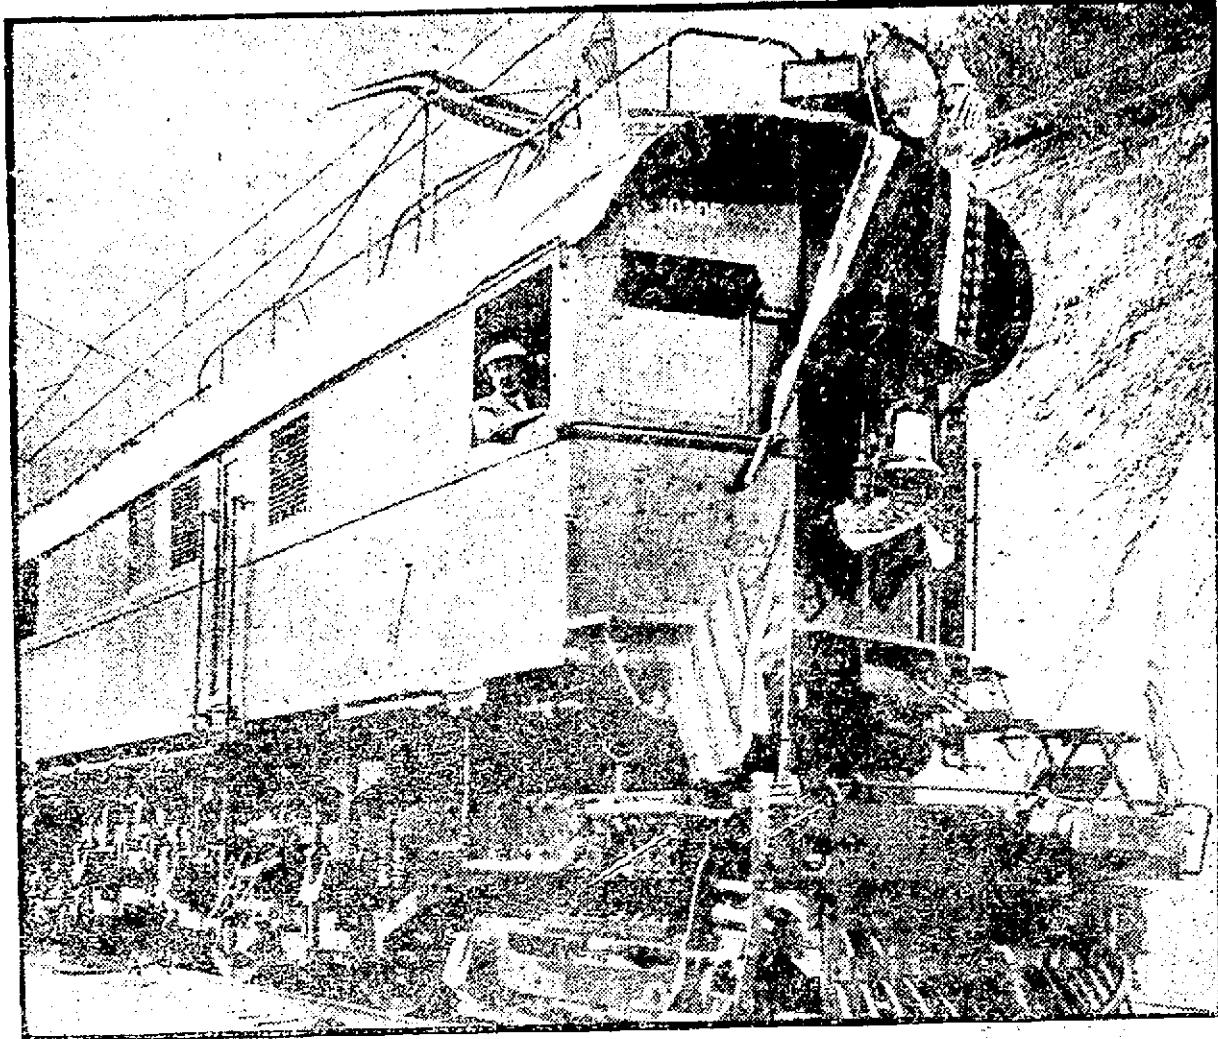

Kansas City Landslide Causes Little Damage

(Copyright, 1923, Pacific & Atlantic Photos, Inc.)

LAST MINUTE PHOTOS WHO'S WHO IN THE NEWS

How Dream of Marion, Ohio, Lad Came True

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Realizing old dream, President Harding (above, in cab) ran Olympian of C. M. & St. P. Railroad fifteen miles through mountains in Montana.

Lost Naval Balloon Found in Lake Erie

Read 'Em and Thirst

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
But there's a catch to it, these labels being a few of the thousands of labels confiscated in print shop raid in N. Y.

Will Try Again

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Lieut. R. L. Maughan (snatching breakfast before starting) gave up coast-to-coast trip at St. Joseph, Mo., as engine "went dead." He'll make another attempt.

Still at It

"Iron Man" Joe McGinnity, once a Giant star, still pitches three times a week for Dubuque, Ia., team, although he's now fifty-two.

Underseas War Dogs Shed Old Coats for New

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Ten of Uncle Sam's fighting submarines, back from war games in Southern waters, are in dry dock at Mare Island, Cal., for overhauling. Workmen are shown repainting the subs.

Four Years' Work in Seven Months

Bertha Levine plunged through four years' work in seven months in N. Y. evening high school. Now she'll study law.

This Is for Lovers

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
This machine, shown in San Francisco, tells you if you're in love by describing vibrations. Miss Lorine Friend (above) tries it out.

Erasing War's Marks

A general view of one of the principal streets in Rheims, recently taken, showing work of repairing still going on.

Inventor

First automatic cannon, soon to be tested by U. S. Army, was invented by Capt. Thomas H. Jersey of the Ordnance Department.

Reward

Quartermaster Eugene Jonas will be recommended for Carnegie Medal for saving two stowaways who leaped from boat into New York Bay.

Gypsying to Sunshine

To beat own record, made last year, Rose and Mae Rainbow (left to right), New York City school teachers, started vacation trip to California.

California Farmers Win 36-Year Irrigation Fight

New Don Pedro dam near Turlock, Cal. (above), has just been completed after farmers had fought thirty-six years for its construction. The dam, which will supply 200,000 acres with irrigation, cost nearly $4,000,000. (Copyright, 1923, Pacific & Atlantic Photo, Inc.)

A Page of The Funniest Comics Daily Before You In The Bee

THE DUFFS

By Allman BARNEY GOOGLE

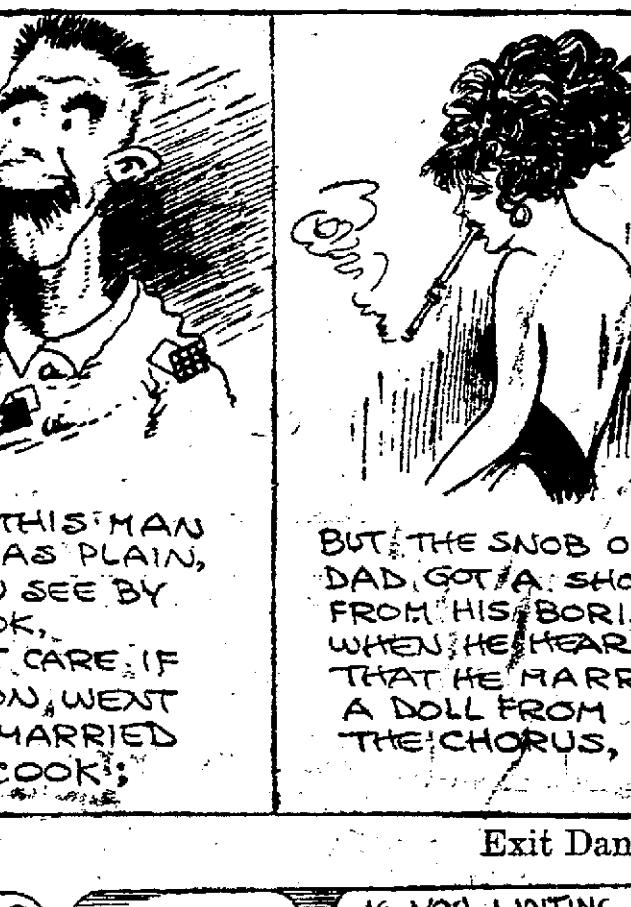

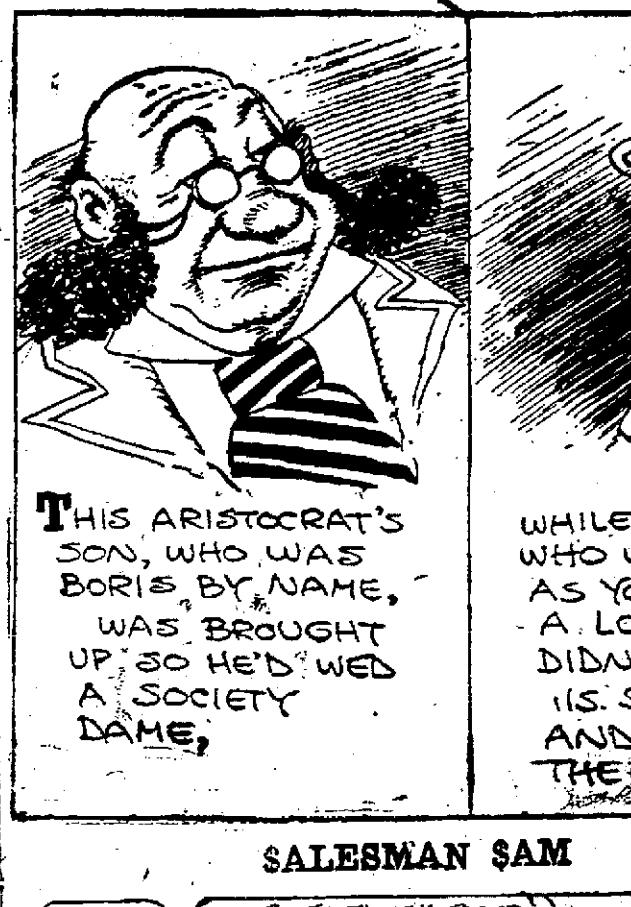

Danny Announces His Presence

By De Beck

It's Barney's Day Off

By De Beck

By Rube Goldberg

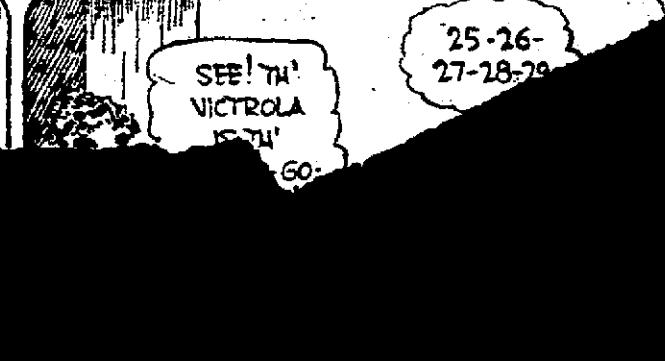

LIFE'S LITTLE JOKES—NUMBER 77,006

By Swan

SALESMAN SAM

Exit Dan Cupid

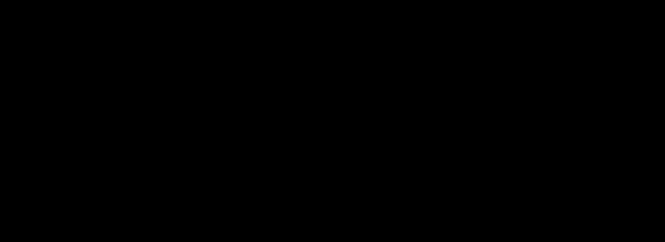

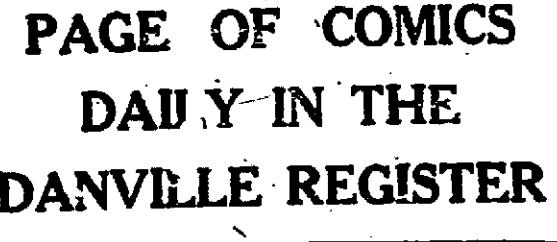

By Blosser

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Home-Made Amusement

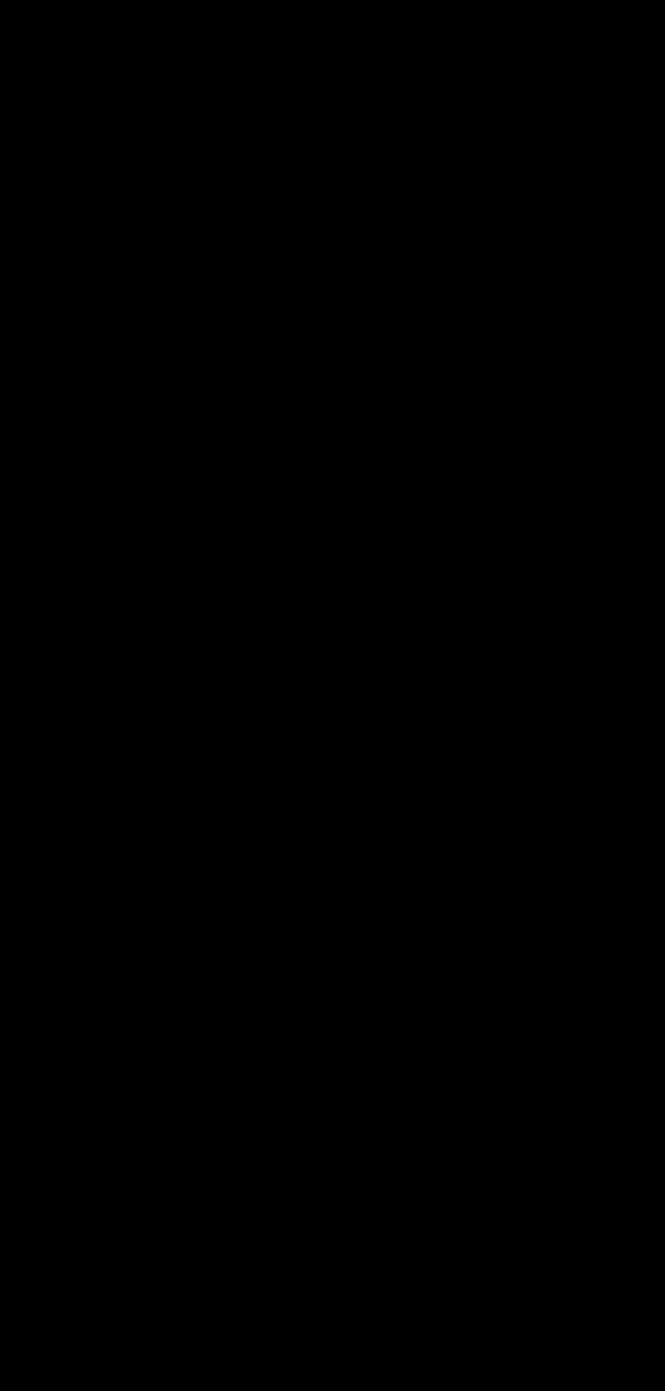

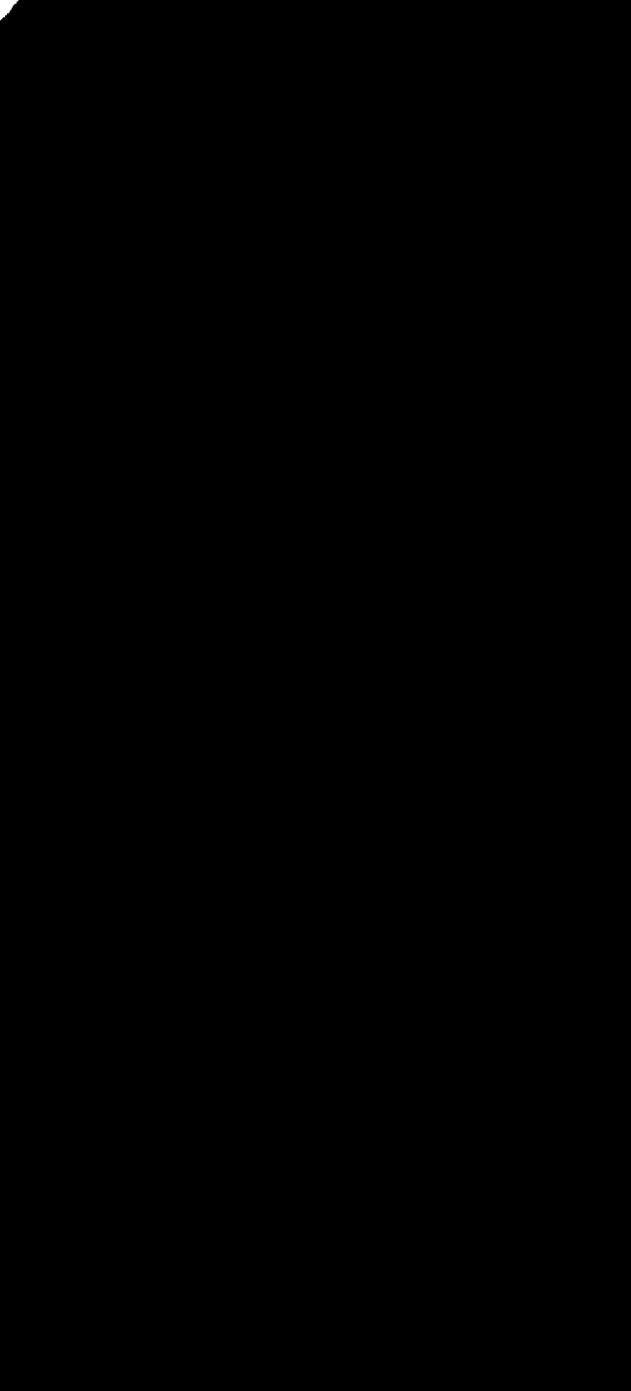

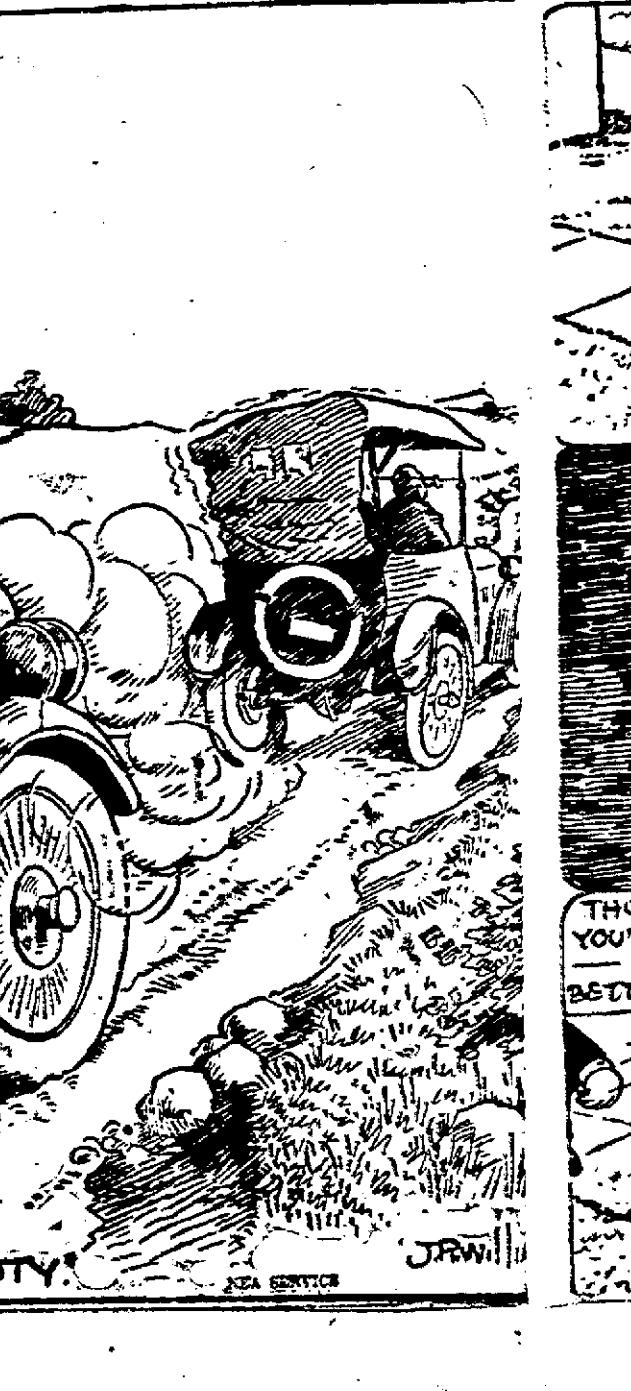

By Blosser

By Condo

PAGE OF COMICS DAILY IN THE DANVILLE REGISTER

OUT OUR WAY—By Williams

By Condo

PIESMAN

